Held 5 Hostages, Then Surrendered

Authorities Seek Answer To Crazed Man's Actions

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — What prompted Charles R. Brown, 25, and unemployed, to invade three Stark County homes, firing guns, terrorizing the residents and holding five persons hostage?

Authorities said Brown gathered hostages ranging in age from 6 months to 73 years in the bizarre incident Wednesday. After drinking whisky and threatening the hostages for nearly four hours, he sent two of them to call police and released the others unharmed. Then, although he had three shotguns, a rifle and two pistols, he surrendered to law officers after a brief siege.

The hostages quoted Brown as saying he had been in a mental hospital. Lt. Edward Moore, a sheriff's deputy, said Brown at first was unable to say why he had acted as he did.

Later, in jail, where he was held without charge, Brown told the deputy if it had not been for the baby girl, "he would have shot it out with us because he wanted to commit suicide," Moore related.

Brown had left a note for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, both of whom were at work at the Alliance Review at the time, but the contents were not disclosed.

One of the hostages, 73-year-old Arthur Widener, said Brown "claimed someone was going to pick him up and he wasn't going to be taken alive.

"He threatened all of us and said he would kill us if we didn't do what he said," Widener added.

Brown invaded three homes. Going from house to house, he made his hostages walk ahead at gunpoint, deputies said.

In each house he searched for guns and ammunition, shot out windows and smashed television sets.

Widener was forced from his home, and Mrs. Genora Barnes, Mrs. Villian Goddard, and 6-month-old Lisa Dunwiddie were taken from the Barnes residence and herded into the home of Blenn Sutton. Mrs. Goddard is Mrs. Barnes' aunt, and the child is Mrs. Barnes' granddaughter. Widener is Mrs. Sutton's father.

"He told us he had been in a penitentiary, a mental hospital and had received a dishonorable discharge from the Air Force," said Mrs. Barnes.

Mrs. Barnes said while Brown was holding his hostages he sent her to his home to get the whisky from a basement refrigerator.

"I cooperated so no one would get hurt," she said.

Later, Brown sent Mrs. Sutton to summon police. When police failed to appear immediately, Brown sent Widener to call again.

Widener said Brown shot at him but missed as he was going down the road.

Police from nearby Minerva, sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen were called out, but Minerva chief William Hawk said the hostages all had been released by the time he arrived.

The chief said Brown fired several shots from the windows. When police fired a couple of shots, Brown waved a white flag "from a shotgun barrel stuck through a hole in the window of the back door," Hawk said.

Ceremony In Mountain Lodge

Heiress Evades Obstacles To Wed Romanian Lover

HENDERSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) —Heiress Gamble Benedict has married her suave Romanian-born sweetheart after kicking over family and legal obstacles in a two-day game of hide and seek in the Carolinas.

The 19-year-old Gamble and Andre Porumbeanu, 35, were wed in a five-minute civil ceremony at a remote mountain lodge near here late Wednesday.

The couple slipped into this summer resort center in the afternoon. They took the required physical examination and blood tests at a local hosptial.

At the office of Register of Deeds Marshall Watterson there was some question as to whether a marriage license would be legal in view of Porumbeanu's Mexican divorce obtained March 15.

Watterson called in Arthur Redden, an attorney and brother of former Rep. Monroe M. Redden (D-NC). Redden consulted by telephone with the state attorney general. That official okayed issuance of the license.

Redden then offered his mountain lodge, located in a remote area of North Mills River west of here, as a site for the wedding. Magistrate Fletcher Roberts was called to perform the ceremony.

Other civic leaders of the community joined the party, including L. B. Prince, an attorney, and Mack Aiken, chairman of the County Board of Elections. Watterson and Redden also signed the wedding papers as witnesses.

No relative of either the bride or bridegroom was present.

The couple had skipped off to Paris last Christmas season and wanted to get married there, but family pressure led French authorities to send the girl back home. She was 18 then. Porumbeanu, a former chauffeur, came back to the U.S. later.

Burglars Obtain $200 From Wellsville Store

Wellsville police reported today that burglars took between $200 and $250 from the J. C. Lawson 5 & 10 Cent Store, 449 Main St., sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

Police Chief John Hephner said the theft was reported by Rose Ann Creaturo, 409 14th St., a clerk.

She discovered the loss when she reported for work yesterday morning.

Police said the thief apparently hid in the store at closing time Tuesday evening. There were no signs of forcible entry.

Harry Henninger of Greentree, Pa., is store manager.

France Willing To Quit A-Tests, DeGaulle Says

LONDON (AP) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle declared today France will quit testing nuclear weapons —and write off its investment in them — if the other nations of the world will agree on nuclear disarmament.

Speaking to a joint session of the British Parliament, the visiting French chief of state said peace can be attained only if "the general fear of sudden annihilation is first removed."

Dixie Senators Balk At Phase Of Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators insisted today on elimination or modification of a civil rights bill provision they contend would discriminate against white voters.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) said that under it, federal court judges could register Negroes as voters right up to the day before an election. The section was added by the House to permit provisional voting by Negroes whose attempts to register under the bill had not been ruled on by election time.

Russell said he doesn't know of a single state that does not require voters to be registered at least 30 days before an election. In many states, he said, they must be registered six months in advance.

The Senate, which rejected three proposed changes Wednesday, votes today on a motion by Sen. Allen U. Ellender (D-La) to strike out the bill's key provision.

This provides that federal court judges, or referees named by them, can register qualified Negroes in areas where systematic discrimination against the minority groups has been found.

Democratic Rivals Eye May 10 Test

Kennedy, Humphrey Begin Campaigning In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)— Those Democrats who are bent on stopping Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) or at least slowing him down before the July 11 national convention will get their next big chance in West Virginia.

But the result either way will be largely psychological since no delegates will be bound.

Campaigning begins this weekend in a rematch between Kennedy and the man he topped two days ago in the Wisconsin presidential primary, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn).

There Kennedy won 20½ and Humphrey 10½ of Wisconsin's 31 convention votes. But results of West Virginia's May 10 primary election will not be binding on the delegates who will cast this state's 25 votes.

There aren't many known supporters of either Kennedy or Humphrey among those running for delegate. And political observers say they don't expect that situation to change, regardless of the outcome of the May 10 voting.

Humphrey will go on the road first. His campaign bus is due to leave here early Friday morning for a swing through southern West Virginia.

Kennedy will begin stumping Monday, also with a series of appearances in the southern part of the state. But already his two brothers, Robert and Ted, are meeting here with campaign workers. Flying in from Wisconsin Wednesday, Robert Kennedy said his brother would consider "a bare majority" as a major victory in West Virginia.

The nonbinding race here after the Wisconsin verdict would be like having batting practice after the crucial game, except for two things:

1. The prospect that overwhelmingly Protestant West Virginia will furnish a truer test than Wisconsin of the religious issue which arises because Kennedy is a Roman Catholic.

2. The fact that this is the next-to-last big chance his party foes will have to upset the Kennedy bandwagon in a primary. Not un-

Wildcat Strike Idles 125 In Crucible Mill

About 125 employes of the forge stock department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. have not worked since Monday night as a result of wildcat strike, a company spokesman said.

Surprise Ordinance

Chester Democrats Seek 4 Council Nominations

A surprise ordinance, apparently designed to enable Chester Democrats to fill four Council nominations for the city's June 7 general election, was approved on first reading Wednesday night by a one-vote margin.

The proposed ordinance, which would permit a political party's executive committee to fill vacancies on party slates, was approved in a 3-2 vote after some discussion.

Tuesday's primary found the Democrats with no candidates for Council in Wards 2 through 5, meaning the Republican candidates in those wards have a clear track to election unless there is strong write-in support.

Under the proposed ordinance, a party's executive comittee could fill a slate vacancy "caused by the death, withdrawal, failure to make a nomination or failure of any candidate to file for nomination" up to 45 days before the general election.

If vacancies were not filled in that period, the chairman of the executive committee could fill them. Any candidate would be certified only if filing fees would be paid.

ABRAMS LAST night said, "The ordinance is not timely and is politics." McSwegin also said the proposal is not appropriate at this time. Both said they would vote in favor of it "after the general election."

The measure was drawn up by City Solicitor William Conklin apparently at the request of Olash. It would not restrict write-in voting in the general election.

THE PROPOSED bill defines a political party as any group of voters which polled at least one per cent of the total votes cast in the previous general election.

Formation of political parties is prescribed with petitioning of not less than 50 such voters formally to the city clerk, and an organizational meeting.

Rules for the organization meeting are also listed, with one committeeman to be elected from each ward, and these committeemen to name a chairman.

The ordinance could apply to the general election ballot if Council gave final approval in time. Council is slated to meet Friday night to canvass Tuesday's primary results.

Council was to canvass the ballots last night, but Solicitor Conklin advised them state law requires the canvass be made on the Friday following the primary.

South Africa Acts To Stop Work Boycott

Operation To Purge Strife-Torn Negro Settlement Started

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Police and soldiers today launched a massive operation to purge strife-torn Nyanga Negro Township of Negroes maintaining a work boycott against the government's racial policies.

The two big African settlements —Nyanga East and Nyanga West —outside Cape Town were the scenes of bloody clashes earlier this week when soldiers and police made raids with clubs, guns and whips.

The South African government said soldiers began patrolling inside the settlement to give "protection to law-abiding natives," meaning those Negroes trying to go back to their jobs in nearby Cape Town.

Simultaneously, police began searching for Negroes the government charges have been inciting others to stay away from work and threatening violence to those who returned to their jobs.

Arraignments Set For April 18; Trials To Start On May 2

Eleven persons were indicted by the Columbiana County Grand Jury, which reported late Wednesday afternoon after a two-day investigation in the April term of Common Pleas Court.

The panel, which began its inquiry Tuesday afternoon with 19 cases, returned 13 true bills and ignored 6 cases in its report to Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Judge Sharp excused the panel of 12 men and 3 women, thanking them "for good job." He said they would possibly be called back sometime in June, if necessary.

True bills returned were:

Robert Garey, 25, of East Liverpool R. D. 1, and John J. Gillen 26, of Cincinnati, theft of an auto from Klondyke used car lot Feb. 9.

Kenneth L. McVay, 26, of Lisbon R. D. 5, and Edwin B. Groff, 18, of Lisbon R. D. 1, burglary of the home of Donald and Leroy George Dec. 15.

In filing the report Anthony Brelih of Salem, foreman, reported that the grand jurors found the conditions as to cleanliness and neatness in the County Jail were very good and made no recommendations.

Arraignment for the defendants will be held Monday, April 18, before Judge Sharp, who will handle criminal cases this term. The first trial was set for May 2.

Federal-State Aid System

7 Senators Offer Health Insurance Plan For Aged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven Republican senators offered today a bill to set up a system of federal-state aid for health insurance protection of persons over 65.

The measure follows the lines of legislation Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming has been developing in the administration.

However, the GOP senators did not claim administration backing for their proposal. One of them told a reporter he believed the 480-million-dollar estimated annual federal cost would be beyond what President Eisenhower would accept.

Flemming testified before a Senate subcommittee Wednesday that his plan had not yet been accepted or rejected in the administration.

These are major points in the Republican senators' bill:

It would be administered by state agencies which would have to be set up by legislative action in the states.

The state agencies would contract with private insurance firms to provide the coverage; if they could not do so, the states could furnish it themselves.

The top rate would be $13 a month. If the subscriber had income of less than $500 a year, he would pay nothing. If his income were between $500 and $1,000 he would pay 50 cents a month, and on up on a graduated scale until the person with more than $3,600 income would have to pay the full $13.

For this coverage, the sponsors said insurance firms have estimated subscribers could get 60 days of hospital or nursing home care, surgery in or out of a hospital, medical care in a hospital, visits to a doctor's office with laboratory tests, diagnostic X-rays, specialist consultation, and visiting nurse service at home.

Youth In Motel Holdup Requests Another Trial

LISBON — A motion for a new trial was filed Wednesday afternoon for James H. Maras, 20, of Warren, convicted of the armed robbery of Barnett's motel, west of Salem, Dec. 11.

He also requested suspension of sentence until the motion for a new trial is ruled on by the court.

Bid To Avert More Flood In 2 States

Sandbags Used To Hold Back Muddy Waters Of 2 Rivers

By The Associated Press

Hundreds of volunteers manned weakened levees in the most critical section of the Midwest flood belt today, hoping to hold back the muddy waters of the swollen Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

Officials said the major danger was that the tons of river water would spill through the dikes which seemingly appear solid but which may be weakened inside by the seepage.

The two big rivers have been on a rampage for a week. The chief danger spots were confined to the lower reaches of the Missouri River and to the Mississippi about 150 miles to the north and the same distance south of St. Louis.

"People are in need here now," said Oscar Crist, a farmer who lives 35 miles west of a battered Mississippi River levee at West Quincy, Mo. "That's the time to help. If we can't help each other, what good are we?"

More workers were called in to strengthen a weakened levee below Quincy, Ill. In nearby Meyer, Ill., only a few of the 100 residents remained, staying in a grain elevator, one of the few buildings not flooded.

Some of the pressure on levees south of Gregory Landing, Mo., was relieved when a levee was dynamited at the confluence of the Fox and Mississippi rivers. Volunteers used baled hay, straw, sandbags and snow fences to protect other levees at Gregory Landing. A few of the 33 residents of the community defiantly stayed behind and were living in a grain elevator, far above the murky waters.

About 80 families moved out of Canton, Mo., a community of

$4,000 Loss Seen In Blaze At Dwelling

A Wellsville mother and her three children were routed from their home at 12:30 a. m. today by a $4,000 fire which almost completely gutted the interior of the house.

Mrs. Carter and the children were taken in by friends after being chased into the cold night.

Firemen said all the rooms in the two-story frame home were burned out. It is owned by Mark Carter of Pittsburgh.

The fire was burning in the partitions and attic, creating a heavy, dense smoke. Shingles on the outside also burned and caused heavy smoke.

Eighteen volunteers responded to the call. Four booster lines were used as well as 250 feet of 2½-inch hose and 300 feet of 1½-inch hose.

Firemen said $3,000 loss resulted to the house, which was valued at $4,000, while $1,000 loss resulted to the contents valued at $1,500.

Practically nothing was saved.

Firemen said they have not been able to determine what started the blaze.

The proposed ordinance, which would permit a political party's executive committee to fill vacancies on party slates, was approved in a 3-2 vote after some discussion.

Tuesday's primary found the Democrats with no candidates for Council in Wards 2 through 5, meaning the Republican candidates in those wards have a clear track to election unless there is strong write-in support.

Under the proposed ordinance, a party's executive comittee could fill a slate vacancy "caused by the death, withdrawal, failure to make a nomination or failure of any candidate to file for nomination" up to 45 days before the general election.

If vacancies were not filled in that period, the chairman of the executive committee could fill them. Any candidate would be certified only if filing fees would be paid.

ABRAMS LAST night said, "The ordinance is not timely and is politics." McSwegin also said the proposal is not appropriate at this time. Both said they would vote in favor of it "after the general election."

The measure was drawn up by City Solicitor William Conklin apparently at the request of Olash. It would not restrict write-in voting in the general election.

THE PROPOSED bill defines a political party as any group of voters which polled at least one per cent of the total votes cast in the previous general election.

Formation of political parties is prescribed with petitioning of not less than 50 such voters formally to the city clerk, and an organizational meeting.

Rules for the organization meeting are also listed, with one committeeman to be elected from each ward, and these committeemen to name a chairman.

The ordinance could apply to the general election ballot if Council gave final approval in time. Council is slated to meet Friday night to canvass Tuesday's primary results.

Council was to canvass the ballots last night, but Solicitor Conklin advised them state law requires the canvass be made on the Friday following the primary.

South Africa Acts To Stop Work Boycott

Operation To Purge Strife-Torn Negro Settlement Started

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Police and soldiers today launched a massive operation to purge strife-torn Nyanga Negro Township of Negroes maintaining a work boycott against the government's racial policies.

The two big African settlements —Nyanga East and Nyanga West —outside Cape Town were the scenes of bloody clashes earlier this week when soldiers and police made raids with clubs, guns and whips.

The South African government said soldiers began patrolling inside the settlement to give "protection to law-abiding natives," meaning those Negroes trying to go back to their jobs in nearby Cape Town.

Simultaneously, police began searching for Negroes the government charges have been inciting others to stay away from work and threatening violence to those who returned to their jobs.

The leader of the militant Pan-Africanist Congress, Robert Man-

Federal-State Aid System

7 Senators Offer Health Insurance Plan For Aged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven Republican senators offered today a bill to set up a system of federal-state aid for health insurance protection of persons over 65.

The measure follows the lines of legislation Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming has been developing in the administration.

However, the GOP senators did not claim administration backing for their proposal. One of them told a reporter he believed the 480-million-dollar estimated annual federal cost would be beyond what President Eisenhower would accept.

Flemming testified before a Senate subcommittee Wednesday that his plan had not yet been accepted or rejected in the administration.

These are major points in the Republican senators' bill:

It would be administered by state agencies which would have to be set up by legislative action in the states.

The state agencies would contract with private insurance firms to provide the coverage; if they could not do so, the states could furnish it themselves.

The top rate would be $13 a month. If the subscriber had income of less than $500 a year, he would pay nothing. If his income were between $500 and $1,000 he would pay 50 cents a month, and on up on a graduated scale until the person with more than $3,600 income would have to pay the full $13.

For this coverage, the sponsors said insurance firms have estimated subscribers could get 60 days of hospital or nursing home care, surgery in or out of a hospital, medical care in a hospital, visits to a doctor's office with laboratory tests, diagnostic X-rays, specialist consultation, and visiting nurse service at home.

Saturday's contest will begin at 1:30 p. m. at St. Aloysius School, with the final two students advancing to the countywide contest at Lisbon on April 25 for both the parochial and public school systems. The six survivors at Lisbon will advance to the district finals at Canton on May 6.

Grand Jurors Indict 11 After 2-Day Session

Arraignments Set For April 18; Trials To Start On May 2

Eleven persons were indicted by the Columbiana County Grand Jury, which reported late Wednesday afternoon after a two-day investigation in the April term of Common Pleas Court.

The panel, which began its inquiry Tuesday afternoon with 19 cases, returned 13 true bills and ignored 6 cases in its report to Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Judge Sharp excused the panel of 12 men and 3 women, thanking them "for good job." He said they would possibly be called back sometime in June, if necessary.

True bills returned were:

Robert Garey, 25, of East Liverpool R. D. 1, and John J. Gillen 26, of Cincinnati, theft of an auto from Klondyke used car lot Feb. 9.

Kenneth L. McVay, 26, of Lisbon R. D. 5, and Edwin B. Groff, 18, of Lisbon R. D. 1, burglary of the home of Donald and Leroy George Dec. 15.

Oliver Metts of Salem, incest.

Gary DeLand, 25, of Salem, larceny from Terrance Balsley of Salem.

Cases ignored were Pat Klink of Rogers, adultery; Dick Rudibaugh of Lisbon, assault and battery; Earl Blythe of Salem, assault with intent to wound; Warren Herbert Kelly of Conneaut, larceny, and James Smith Jr. and Carl DeLand unarmed robbery.

In filing the report Anthony Brelih of Salem, foreman, reported that the grand jurors found the conditions as to cleanliness and neatness in the County Jail were very good and made no recommendations.

Arraignment for the defendants will be held Monday, April 18, before Judge Sharp, who will handle criminal cases this term. The first trial was set for May 2.

Bid To Avert More Flood In 2 States

Sandbags Used To Hold Back Muddy Waters Of 2 Rivers

By The Associated Press

Hundreds of volunteers manned weakened levees in the most critical section of the Midwest flood belt today, hoping to hold back the muddy waters of the swollen Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

Officials said the major danger was that the tons of river water would spill through the dikes which seemingly appear solid but which may be weakened inside by the seepage.

The two big rivers have been on a rampage for a week. The chief danger spots were confined to the lower reaches of the Missouri River and to the Mississippi about 150 miles to the north and the same distance south of St. Louis.

"People are in need here now," said Oscar Crist, a farmer who lives 35 miles west of a battered Mississippi River levee at West Quincy, Mo. "That's the time to help. If we can't help each other, what good are we?"

More workers were called in to strengthen a weakened levee below Quincy, Ill. In nearby Meyer, Ill., only a few of the 100 residents remained, staying in a grain elevator, one of the few buildings not flooded.

Some of the pressure on levees south of Gregory Landing, Mo., was relieved when a levee was dynamited at the confluence of the Fox and Mississippi rivers. Volunteers used baled hay, straw, sandbags and snow fences to protect other levees at Gregory Landing. A few of the 33 residents of the community defiantly stayed behind and were living in a grain elevator, far above the murky waters.

About 80 families moved out of Canton, Mo., a community of

$4,000 Loss Seen In Blaze At Dwelling

A Wellsville mother and her three children were routed from their home at 12:30 a. m. today by a $4,000 fire which almost completely gutted the interior of the house.

Mrs. Carter and the children were taken in by friends after being chased into the cold night.

Firemen said all the rooms in the two-story frame home were burned out. It is owned by Mark Carter of Pittsburgh.

The fire was burning in the partitions and attic, creating a heavy, dense smoke. Shingles on the outside also burned and caused heavy smoke.

Eighteen volunteers responded to the call. Four booster lines were used as well as 250 feet of 2½-inch hose and 300 feet of 1½-inch hose.

Firemen said $3,000 loss resulted to the house, which was valued at $4,000, while $1,000 loss resulted to the contents valued at $1,500.

Practically nothing was saved.

Firemen said they have not been able to determine what started the blaze.

Following Friday night's canvass, the ballots of all five wards will be placed in sealed envelopes and locked in the ballot boxes for the recount.

Council authorized the payment of $3 to janitors of three schools where polling places were set up Tuesday. The janitors erected booths and performed other services.

Discussion was held on removal of the 25-cent fee collected by the clerk for issuance of the city driver's licenses.

COUNCIL, which voted informally last month to end the fee, ordered legislation drawn to amend the license ordinance to terminate it. Abrams, Kology and Olash approved the measure asking for legislation, while Waggle and McSwegin opposed.

Waggle declared fees are charged for issuing hunting, fishing, dog and other licenses, and said he believes the clerk should receive compensation for time and work connected with the task. Olash said if the clerk is not permitted a fee, he should be paid by the city for the extra work.

Solicitor Conklin pointed out salaries can not be revised until the beginning of the fiscal year July 1. Cashdollar urged Council to approve the proposed amendment ending the fees, declaring, he did not intend to collect the fee anyway.

Quarterly reports showed receipts of $12,248, expenditures of $10,939, leaving a balance of $1,309. Mayor Ward reported $704 collected in fines, and Cashdollar reported $102 from licenses.

Stratton Dam Funds Urged

Approval of $6,180,000 to continue work on the Stratton Superdam was urged before the House appropriations subcommittee Wednesday at Washington by a group which said the Army Engineer Corps Ohio River improvement program is lagging dangerously.

The twin locks at the Stratton dam are in use but the dam proper remains under construction, advancing on yearly appropriations. The administration had approved a similar appropriation for the project.

The rate of progress indicated by administration budget requests is dangerously inadequate, said William J. Hull, spokesman for the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn., Inc.

Dozens off witnesses from Ohio and Kentucky urged Congress to approve funds for some 40 flood control and navigation projects in the 2 states and other areas of the Ohio River Valley.

"The conclusion is inescapable," Hull said, "that further traffic growth on the Ohio will be increasingly retarded and ultimately stifled within 10 years unless the present obsolete and inadequate facilities are completely replaced by that time."

Most of the witnesses had only five minutes to plug their projects. Most submitted statements for the subcommittee record.

The improvement association submitted a master list of fund requests for Ohio Valley projects.

It included $9 million for the Pike Island Lock and Dam at Yorkville, where a contract has been let for preliminary work. The Shenango River reservoir, $2,500,000, and the West Branch Mahoning River reservoir, $2 million, were included, along with $4,233,000 to continue construction of the Dillon Reservoir in Harrison County.

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Three of the four part-time policemen in nearby Doylestown, including the chief, have resigned. Chief Walter Evans, on the force 30 years, said he may sue the village for back salary. The others who resigned are special policeman Walter Evans Jr. and policeman Clifford Mohler.

At Ste. Genevieve, Mo., 45 miles south of St. Louis, rising water halted operations of the Missouri Pacific's railroad ferry between Missouri and Illinois points.

The Weather Bureau in St. Louis has predicted a four to nine foot overflow into bottom lands of both Illinois and Missouri in the Cape Girardeau area.

The Red Cross has estimated that 31,000 persons have been affected by floods this spring in the Midwest. The situation has eased in most areas except along the Mississippi and Missouri. More than one million acres of land were flooded and property damage ran into millions of dollars.

Floods in sections of New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania caused evacuations of scores of families. But rivers and streams were receding and no immediate serious overflows were indicated.

Board To Open Bids For Test Borings

Bids for well-drilling and test boring at the site of the proposed new high school will be opened Tuesday at 8 p. m., James P. McClaskey, president, announced at the meeting of the Western Beaver County Board of Education Monday night.

The bids will be opened at a meeting in the Ray W. Snyder School, McClaskey said.

The board also authorized the Ohio Township Hot Stove League to use the ballfield at the Fairview School for practice and games. Bills were ordered paid.

Industry Tax Rates Adopted

Industry Borough Council Wednesday evening adopted a 10 - mill tax ordinance that had been set up for the budget of $32,411.98 approved March 2.

Millage had been 5½ mills and the increase was explained in letters to borough residents. Council planned to renew a $3 per capita tax at the May 4 meeting.

Calvin Dunlap, president, appointed two committees — traffic regulation, Ross Strohm, chairman, William Ralph and Dunlap, and public works and utilities, Matthew Bertovic, chairman, Steve Suchanec and James Muns.

A new fire alarm system, to be installed by the Bell Telephone Co., was approved. Some seven phones will be put in firemen's homes and all will ring when an alarm is called in. When one is answered, the other six will stop ringing.

Difficulties in the present alarm system were pointed out since Mickey's Tavern is closed on Sunday and then calls must be received by Police Chief E. J. Hineman.

Next Wednesday, Councilmen will hold a closed meeting at offices at the Ohio View Store and discuss the location for a proposed new Post Office. Council will consider submitting a bid to the U. S. Postal Department. A public meeting on the subject will be set later.

Next meeting will be April 20 in the fire hall.

Kaycee Participation In Vigil Is Discussed

The religious activities committee of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, headed by Fr. Thomas G. Mulhearn, council chaplain, met Tuesday night at the K. of C. Hall. James Buchheit, grand knight, presided.

James McGowan, chairman of the special activities committee, will be at the hall Saturday from 2 to 5 p. m. to receive individual Lenten program reports from members. The report will be sent to state deputy's office in Cincinnati over the weekend.

til the Oregon voting May 20 will Kennedy again go against serious opposition. Entered in the Democratic primary there along with Kennedy and Humphrey are Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, and Sen. Wayne L. Morse of Oregon.

A solid Kennedy victory here might do for him what his Wisconsin victory did not. It might dispel the fear felt by some party professionals that Kennedy, as a Catholic, could not win in November against the Republican nominee, almost certain to be Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Catholics account for just over 15 per cent of church membership in West Virginia and not quite 5 per cent of the total population. The percentage of Catholics may be higher among Democrats, who will do all the voting in the Kennedy - Humphrey contest. Unlike Wisconsin, West Virginia does not permit crossover voting in primaries.

The Catholic population is heaviest upstate, especially in the steel towns of the Northern Panhandle. One-third of the state's Catholics live in the upper three counties of the Panhandle.

Rural West Virginia is practically all protestant, mostly Methodists and Baptists. Southern West Virginia is overwhelmingly protestant, but there are Catholic parishes in some coal-mining sections there.

be held Monday night. Willison said his attorney could not attend any recount this week.

Following Friday night's canvass, the ballots of all five wards will be placed in sealed envelopes and locked in the ballot boxes for the recount.

Council authorized the payment of $3 to janitors of three schools where polling places were set up Tuesday. The janitors erected booths and performed other services.

Discussion was held on removal of the 25-cent fee collected by the clerk for issuance of the city driver's licenses.

COUNCIL, which voted informally last month to end the fee, ordered legislation drawn to amend the license ordinance to terminate it. Abrams, Kology and Olash approved the measure asking for legislation, while Waggle and McSwegin opposed.

Waggle declared fees are charged for issuing hunting, fishing, dog and other licenses, and said he believes the clerk should receive compensation for time and work connected with the task. Olash said if the clerk is not permitted a fee, he should be paid by the city for the extra work.

Solicitor Conklin pointed out salaries can not be revised until the beginning of the fiscal year July 1. Cashdollar urged Council to approve the proposed amendment ending the fees, declaring, he did not intend to collect the fee anyway.

THE STREET committee was directed to study a request from Matt Stipec of Little Blue Rd. for relocation of the right-of-way of Alpine Way near Pyramus St. Stepic said the roadway is on four lots he owns there.

Cashdollar commended Council for in the manner it used the city funds during the past year. He said it had done well "with the money you had to work with."

Quarterly reports showed receipts of $12,248, expenditures of $10,939, leaving a balance of $1,309. Mayor Ward reported $704 collected in fines, and Cashdollar reported $102 from licenses.

Stratton Dam Funds Urged

Approval of $6,180,000 to continue work on the Stratton Superdam was urged before the House appropriations subcommittee Wednesday at Washington by a group which said the Army Engineer Corps Ohio River improvement program is lagging dangerously.

The twin locks at the Stratton dam are in use but the dam proper remains under construction, advancing on yearly appropriations. The administration had approved a similar appropriation for the project.

The rate of progress indicated by administration budget requests is dangerously inadequate, said William J. Hull, spokesman for the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn., Inc.

Dozens off witnesses from Ohio and Kentucky urged Congress to approve funds for some 40 flood control and navigation projects in the 2 states and other areas of the Ohio River Valley.

"The conclusion is inescapable," Hull said, "that further traffic growth on the Ohio will be increasingly retarded and ultimately stifled within 10 years unless the present obsolete and inadequate facilities are completely replaced by that time."

Most of the witnesses had only five minutes to plug their projects. Most submitted statements for the subcommittee record.

The improvement association submitted a master list of fund requests for Ohio Valley projects.

It included $9 million for the Pike Island Lock and Dam at Yorkville, where a contract has been let for preliminary work. The Shenango River reservoir, $2,500,000, and the West Branch Mahoning River reservoir, $2 million, were included, along with $4,233,000 to continue construction of the Dillon Reservoir in Harrison County.

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Three of the four part-time policemen in nearby Doylestown, including the chief, have resigned. Chief Walter Evans, on the force 30 years, said he may sue the village for back salary. The others who resigned are special policeman Walter Evans Jr. and policeman Clifford Mohler.

The Mississippi, swelled further by the flooded Missouri, caused some apprehension below St. Louis.

At Ste. Genevieve, Mo., 45 miles south of St. Louis, rising water halted operations of the Missouri Pacific's railroad ferry between Missouri and Illinois points.

The Weather Bureau in St. Louis has predicted a four to nine foot overflow into bottom lands of both Illinois and Missouri in the Cape Girardeau area.

The Red Cross has estimated that 31,000 persons have been affected by floods this spring in the Midwest. The situation has eased in most areas except along the Mississippi and Missouri. More than one million acres of land were flooded and property damage ran into millions of dollars.

Floods in sections of New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania caused evacuations of scores of families. But rivers and streams were receding and no immediate serious overflows were indicated.

Board To Open Bids For Test Borings

Bids for well-drilling and test boring at the site of the proposed new high school will be opened Tuesday at 8 p. m., James P. McClaskey, president, announced at the meeting of the Western Beaver County Board of Education Monday night.

The board also authorized the Ohio Township Hot Stove League to use the ballfield at the Fairview School for practice and games. Bills were ordered paid.

Industry Tax Rates Adopted

Industry Borough Council Wednesday evening adopted a 10 - mill tax ordinance that had been set up for the budget of $32,411.98 approved March 2.

Millage had been 5½ mills and the increase was explained in letters to borough residents. Council planned to renew a $3 per capita tax at the May 4 meeting.

Calvin Dunlap, president, appointed two committees — traffic regulation, Ross Strohm, chairman, William Ralph and Dunlap, and public works and utilities, Matthew Bertovic, chairman, Steve Suchanec and James Muns.

A new fire alarm system, to be installed by the Bell Telephone Co., was approved. Some seven phones will be put in firemen's homes and all will ring when an alarm is called in. When one is answered, the other six will stop ringing.

Difficulties in the present alarm system were pointed out since Mickey's Tavern is closed on Sunday and then calls must be received by Police Chief E. J. Hineman.

Next Wednesday, Councilmen will hold a closed meeting at offices at the Ohio View Store and discuss the location for a proposed new Post Office. Council will consider submitting a bid to the U. S. Postal Department. A public meeting on the subject will be set later.

Next meeting will be April 20 in the fire hall.

Wisconsin Goes On The Record

In a few months everything about the Wisconsin primary will have been forgotten, except this:

Sen. Humphrey missed a golden opportunity to spring to the fore among the Democratic presidential contenders by knocking out his friend, Sen. Kennedy.

At the same time Sen. Kennedy missed a golden opportunity to run Sen. Humphrey into the ground, but that is not important.

Sen. Kennedy is the front runner in the match race he and his friend from Minnesota are staging for the edification of the delegates to next summer's Democratic convention. It was not important if he won in Wisconsin by a whisker, by a length, or going away. It would have been important only if he had lost to Humphrey, as far as the Democratic delegates are concerned. The delegates want to back a winner at San Francisco, and Kennedy is still ahead.

ASIDE FROM VOTES, there was an important development to be watched in the Wisconsin contest. Everybody was interested in the way voters and candidates would handle Kennedy's Catholicism.

Wisconsin revealed a few things on that score which will be common currency from now on—especially if Sen. Kennedy nails down the Democratic presidential nomination.

Wisconsin Catholics showed a tendency to use Kennedy's candidacy to prove that a member of their faith is at no disadvantage in a political contest. Many Republican Catholics used Democratic ballots in the presidential primary contest to show their approval of Kennedy. It has not been asserted, on the other hand, that any Catholic Democrats went out of their way to show support for Richard Nixon, who was unopposed on the Republican ballot.

Sen. Kennedy has been refreshingly realistic about the element of his religious faith in politics. He believes it is not a handicap and that it would be no handicap to the Democratic party if he became its presidential candidate. The Wisconsin result confirm his evaluation of the element of religion in presidential politics in 1960. He is stronger for it, not weaker.

ASIDE FROM the rough-and-tumble Democratic contest, the other point of interest was the vote Vice President Nixon could poll without making any campaign and without running against an opponent. This would be a simple gesture of approval, under the circumstances.

Mr. Nixon ran a strong third to the two Democrats who had spent large sums of money and put in prodigious efforts to bring their candidacies to the attention of voters. It is possible he would have been second in the vote totals if so many Catholic Republicans had not used their primary ballots to show their support for Sen. Kennedy in what they saw as an effort to prove a point.

Minimum-Maximum Age Limits

If your 60th birthday is coming in the uncomfortably near future, legal action against the Federal Aviation Agency's order grounding airline pilots 60 years of age or older may be the most interesting thing to watch in 1960.

Once it had been established that a federal agency could set a maximum age limit for employes in one category of interstate enterprise, the precedent could be applied to employes in other categories.

Railroad engineers could be barred beyond a certain age. Truck drivers could be "grounded." Politicians could begin to write federal laws barring contracts to employers who hired anyone over a certain age, just as states have assumed the authority to bar employment to persons under a certain age.

The issue in the order grounding airline pilots is whether or not the "progressive deterioration of both physiological and psychological functions which normally occurs with age" is subject to proof and demonstration. The pilots' union, with a membership of 13,000, is digging in for a fight on this point.

But the real damage that could be done is not the interposition of a federal policy about a man's right to earn a living flying a commercial aircraft. There would be only a handful of pilots affected by such a policy.

But if a precedent gets going that the federal government can tell private enterprise how old or perhaps how young its employes can be, it will be harder to stop than it was to start. The judges who will rule on the question opened by the Federal Aviation Agency's order would do well to remember that Franklin D. Roosevelt once was in favor of sending judges to limbo when they reached what he held to be the end of their useful lives.

Judges took a sour view of the proposal, which was defeated. They argued that it would be foolish to put that much power into executive hands.

No Sin To Talk About Money

The touchiest issue in Washington at the moment is health insurance for the aged. Pro and con mail is flooding Congress. Rumors are hinting of hard feelings in the Eisenhower administration over the issue. Vice President Nixon is believed to be at odds with President Eisenhower, who has given go-slow orders on the whole proposition.

The issue has been joined over the Forand bill in the House. Its author Rep. Aime Joseph Forand, a Democrat from Rhode Island, has become the most widely publicized House member, thanks to attacks on him by opponents of his proposal and statements of support by its friends.

The Forand bill would provide care for over-65 citizens on social security pensions in nursing homes and hospitals. To pay for the care, the old age and survivors insurance tax would be raised on both employers and employes—another ½ of 1 per cent this time.

In general, the pros are retired persons, labor unions, the elderly and the ill. The cons are businessmen, the American Medical Assn. and its members, insurance companies and people who object to the Forand proposal as socialization, an unsound financial proposal and an unwarranted tax on the many for the benefit of the few.

What makes the issue difficult is the fact it is over a matter of money, though it is discussed as a matter of compassion. No one in 1960 is indifferent to suffering and hardship. But prudence is still a virtue. It is not a sin to talk about money.

Rep. Forand, himself, does not have the closed mind that some of his newly acquired friends have developed. His aim is to help people in distress, not to ram his proposal down anyone's throat. "If anyone has a better solution on medical care to the aged than I have," he told The New York Times recently, "let them come up with it."

Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare in the Eisenhower administration, has said in a public hearing the administration has no fixed ideas so far about solving the problem. The problem exists. No one denies that.

The issue is how to develop a solution—whether it could be another addition to the social security tax—another massive federal undertaking—or whether it could be some combination of public and private enterprise that would hold the government's role to a minimum and get rid of the politics in medicine bogey.

If the issue gets into the presidential campaign, as it well may, the showdown will be on what it has been so many times before—prudence vs. profligacy, private control vs. public control.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Ike had to give answers to census takers at the White House and his reply to "Do you have hot and cold running water?" must have been "Plenty hot here all the time." We imagine President's census form reads:

Q. Does more than one family live here?

A. No; it only seems so.

Q. Are you leaving anybody out because you are not sure whether he should be listed as someone having another home?

Johnson Denies Anti-Labor Label

By Victor Riesel

Lyndon Johnson, sophisticatedly aware that no star, no matter how brilliant, can ever make it alone at a national convention, appears to have picked the man with whom he'd like to run. In recent weeks, the Senate majority leader has been talking quietly with Pennslyvania's Gov. David Lawrence.

Victor Riesel

The Texan has suggested that they team up to fight for the presidential and vice presidential nominations in Los Angeles.

Not too long after one of these friendly talks, Sen. Johnson went over to a St. Patrick's Day eve party thrown by a congressman in the Washington, D.C., Press Club. That was on March 5.

The Senate leader asked the labor leader why some steel union officials were lashing out at him down in Texas.

JOHNSON SAID he wasn't anti-labor. He pointed out that the Texas Railway Brotherhoods and a strong bloc of AFL-CIO unions, including many United Auto Workers district men, supported him.

McDonald retorted that his Texas people had some pretty strong minds of their own with opinions

The Pittsburgh union chief then said it wasn't he who had been lambasting Johnson but what about that letter Johnson had sent to leading Texans. In it Johnson said he "favored strong, effective regulatory legislation to protect Americans from improper labor practices. . ."

Their voices rose. A picture was snapped by some amateur collector of historic events on glossies. McDonald said something like, "Let's cut this out, everybody's listening . . . why not continue this at lunch tomorrow somewhere?"

Johnson agreed. He believed that he did not deserve labor's criticism. They were hitting him because he is a southerner and for many obvious reasons this angered him.

The Senator couldn't make lunch the next day but felt so strongly that he juggled an appointment with a Cabinet member and invited McDonald in to his office at 10 in the morning.

THERE IS NO DOUBLT that Johnson has strong support inside Texas labor. There might have been an official endorsement of the majority leader by the Texas state council if the national AFL-CIO leadership hadn't voted in Bal Harbour, Fla., last February to instruct all state councils to stay neutral until after the nominations.

The Senate chief went into the session determined to reject insinuations that he is anti-labor.

He could have told McDonald that his relationship with Walter Reuther is friendly, indeed. Whether he did tell this to the steel union chief, only the two of them know. But the cordiality between Johnson and Reuther—and "Mr. Sam" Rayburn, whom Reuther respects—was confirmed by an almost unnoticed incident the other day.

A STORY APPEARED in a Washington daily newspaper that Reuther was unfriendly to Johnson. When a mutual friend of the two telephoned the Auto Union president long distance with news of the story, Reuther scouted his national office to learn just who might have either authorized or leaked such a piece.

A telegram was sent to the paper by a press aide denying the report. Then a copy of the wire was telegraphed to Johnson by Reuther himself with some mighty warm additional words.

All this is not standard operating procedure for the Auto Union chief. It revealed Reuther's concern over what Johnson thought of him. Of course, this season being what it is, political history grows out of such instances.

It also reflects the fact that Reuther does not want to hurt Johnson's efforts to talk into the national convention with labor support of his own to match the union leaders' backing for John Kennedy, Hubert Humphrey and Stuart Symington.

Is Everybody Happy?

WASHINGTON

The Wisconsin primary was a mish-mash.

It proved nothing. Yet all three entries, no matter how they finished, said they felt encouraged. That ought to set some kind of record for American politics.

Take Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), who ran first in the state's Democratic presidential primary with more than 478,000 votes..

He was described as elated although he had been favored to win and could have done better.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), his rival in the Democratic contest, got about 372,000 votes, or more than 106,000 less than Kennedy.

But he was encouraged because he hadn't done worse.

He went even further and told Republicans around the country to look for a Republican victory in the presidential election in Wisconsin in November.

Then guess what Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee said.

He said Wisconsin would go Democratic in November.

And his opposite number, Sen. Thruston B. Morton, chairman of the GOP National Committee, said the vote for Nixon was the greatest vote ever given an unopposed candidate in the Wisconsin primary.

The White House said: "No comment."

What does it all add up to? Nixon might have done much better if he had gone into Wisconsin to campaign for himself. But he didn't and it was the Democratic contest which got the attention.

Under other conditions in the same state—with just one Democratic entry who, like Nixon, didn't campaign — Nixon might have done far better.

Yet, there's a chance the big Democratic vote and the low-man-on-the-totem-pole spot Nixon landed in may indicate broad Wisconsin discontent with the Republicans and be the forerunner of a nationwide discontent which can't be expressed till November.

On the other hand Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, no doubt owes a big part of his vote to Catholics, both Democrats and Republicans, since Wisconsin is 30 per cent Catholic.

But when he runs in West Virginia May 10 against Humphrey, in the presidential primary there, there'll be very little Catholic vote to help him since the Catholics in West Virginia total about only 5 per cent of the population.

Perhaps Kennedy would have won the way he did in Wisconsin even if he had been a Protestant and maybe the anti-Catholic sentiment that showed itself against Al Smith in 1928 has died out in this country.

And a heavy vote against Kennedy in Protestant West Virginia might not prove any anti-Catholic sentiment at all but something unrelated.

For instance: West Virginia is not a prosperous state and the people there might feel a closer kinship to Humphrey, a relatively poor man, than to the young millionaire, Kennedy.

What the Wisconsin vote he got means for Humphrey is hard to say. Perhaps, since he got a good turnout in many rural districts, the nation's farmers are fed up with the Eisenhower administration's farm policies.

Or, it could mean only that the farmers felt Humphrey talked language better than Kennedy, since he comes from next-door Minnesota.

Actually the Kennedy - Humphrey race was more a personal popularity contest than a choice between the different ideas the two men stand for. They stand for pretty much the same ideas.

The Years Through

Mrs. Marshall Cronin, census supervisor, announced that the 54 enumerators in Columbiana County were receiving "courteous treatment."

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Charles Lewis, safety - service director, and R. O. Smith, relief director, of Wellsville attended a meeting on relief situations at Columbus.

The proposed $40,000 school expansion program for Wellsville was advanced by the board of education.

John Edward Laughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Laughlin of the Campground Rd., was named first alternate to the Naval Academy at Annapolis from the 18th Congressional District.

Lesson Up In The Sky

By David Lawrence

Long Range Benefits Seen From Satellite

Maybe there's a lesson up in the sky as a small object, with a television camera inside, sends pictures and messages by radio from a height of 450 miles as it circles the earth every 99 minutes.

David Lawrence

Too many people jumped to conclusions when the first Soviet Sputnik began circling the globe 18 months ago. They did not realize that scientific progress cannot be judged by a single project.

Even when the United States started sending out satellites, too, the criticism was made that, after all, the Russians had sent much heavier ones into space—as if weight was the sole criterion!

Now it turns out that American scientists were right in concentrating on scientific experiments rather than on stunts. For the United States today has nine satellites in outer space, while Russia has only three.

Also, the latest satellite sent up weighing only 270 pounds, has in its scientific equipment never before placed into orbit.

The American achievement has prompted Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Democrat, chairman of the Senate's special committee on space problems, to exclaim that the launching of "Tiros I," with its television camera, is "the best space news we have had in a long time."

He added that this would be "a tremendous boon for mankind—a tremendous step toward peace."

IN WHAT WAY does a satellite in the air have anything to do with world peace?

The answer is that inspection of armament from the skies has long been a basic objective of President Eisenhower's disarmament proposals. This means that nations may be able to learn instantly by photographs about military preparations and activities of other nations.

It probably will be possible always to conceal certain weapons but any suspicious movement of large military forces or unusual concentration at bases can be detected from the air so as to give warning against a surprise attack.

The advantages of the earth-circling instruments are not by any means confined to the military side. There is a definite prospect that information will be collected about the origin of weather conditions so that advance data will enable the earth's inhabitants better to prepare against dangerous trends in the weather.

In this connection, Sen. Kenneth Keating (R-N.Y.) who conducts a weekly television broadcast over a network of stations in New York State, was the other day interviewing Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and asked him what was to be derived from the expenditure of millions of dollars for research into space. Dr. Glennan replied:

"I think it is only honest to say that we probably will have no economic benefits immediately from this activity but it is clear that we will have economic benefits in the long run, particularly in fields such as meteorology and the field of communications. . . . It's a new technology and as we devise new processes, new techniques, these come back into industry and really pay off."

DR. GLENNAN spoke of "Pioneer V," the satellite which, as of midnight April 5, had traveled 3,491,932 miles away from the earth and still is in communication. He added:

"We're getting information about the radiation fields in space. We're understanding a little bit more of the magnetic fields out in space. We're getting back very good information on the temperatures both inside the package and outside the package. I suppose the most important information, however, is the assurance that we have that we seem to be able to talk to this thing out there. . . .

"It talks back. We talk to it, send it a signal, turn on the amplifier out in space and it sends back these coded bits of information which we then put through a computer. We were able to get temperatures and pressures and radiation information from 2½ million miles out there. We expect to do this clear out to 50 million miles."

It has taken 16 months of heavy effort, according to Dr. Glennan, and the total cost is about 12 to 15 million dollars up to date.

"I don't think we're behind the Russians," remarks the head of America's space projects. He speaks of some Soviet superiority in the "thrust" in rocket systems but indicates that this can be surmounted soon. Here is his conclusion:

"In terms of the long-range benefits, in terms of the solid accomplishments that have come from these two programs (Russian and American), I think there is no question but what we're ahead."

In a few years there will be a man in outer space. But America's objective is not to perform stunts. It is to gather knowledge for the benefit of mankind.

I predict a total collapse of enterprise the first warm day of spring. Never have so many waited so long for blood-warming sunshine, and when it happens the results will be cataclysmic.

In politics and in sports, contestants usually respect each other, while the bad blood is found among spectators who do not understand the difference between playing a game and conducting a feud.

The time is at hand when rotary grass mowers are as universally popular as reel mowers once were, but the fact remains there are some lawns that cannot be mowed satisfactorily with rotary blades.

My sympathy is available for two categories of performers who frequently get a raw deal, in my opinion. One is actors, who need only the right role to become famous. The other is baseball players, who need only the confidence of a manager to prove they are major leaguers.

The net result of everything I have observed about education is a conviction that being educated is not an absolute state but a state of mind in which the pursuit of knowledge seems more worthwhile than the defense of ignorance.

The most gratifying entertainment made available by television is the uniformly high grade of dancing staged for millions of people like me who otherwise would have no chance to see this form of entertainment.

The most flagrant waste of public money is patchwork on secondary roads that go to pot each spring and must be done over year after year. If they were built permanently in the first place, they would cost less over a decade.

The most trying test of my composure recently was to walk behind a lady who obviously was a burlesque performer on her way to work to remember that no one would notice a pop-eyed pedestrian walking three steps behind her.

I never go to an airport but what I remember how people used to mill around busy railroad stations, once the most exciting centers of activity in towns lucky enough to be situated on the main line.

For one dime, 10 cents, it is still possible to get a sizable stick of hard licorice, the world's best bargain in ruminative ecstasy.

If I were gunning for a grand prize in legislative reform, I would propose a change whereby every suggested law would be introduced, put through committee and voted on buckity-buckity, so the public could keep track of it. The alternative is a state of delay in which no one knows what is happening—and this includes legislators.

Personal nomination for the most bromidic bit in television—the phony scene in which the pitchman or the master of ceremonies pretends to be interrupted or taken by surprise after hours of rehearsal.

One of my cherished Christmas presents was an umbrella—the first I ever owned. I have yet to find the right occasion to use it, though I have been keeping it handy for three months.

All I knew about Hawaii before reading James Michener's "Hawaii" could have been printed on one side of one page of what seems to me to be the most useful and certainly the timeliest book of recent years—a compendium of useful information about the 50th state, sugar-coated with fiction.

Letter To Editor

Just who is the IBOP, Mr. Wheatley & Co. or the membership at large?

If they are so sure the members want a new building why are they so reluctant to grant a referendum vote on this matter? They have grabbed at every straw to try and prevent a referendum.

I have been a member over 40 years and have always expressed my opinions according to my own belief, but I have never before been called a "Quisling".

Wisconsin Goes On The Record

In a few months everything about the Wisconsin primary will have been forgotten, except this:

Sen. Humphrey missed a golden opportunity to spring to the fore among the Democratic presidential contenders by knocking out his friend, Sen. Kennedy.

At the same time Sen. Kennedy missed a golden opportunity to run Sen. Humphrey into the ground, but that is not important.

Sen. Kennedy is the front runner in the match race he and his friend from Minnesota are staging for the edification of the delegates to next summer's Democratic convention. It was not important if he won in Wisconsin by a whisker, by a length, or going away. It would have been important only if he had lost to Humphrey, as far as the Democratic delegates are concerned. The delegates want to back a winner at San Francisco, and Kennedy is still ahead.

ASIDE FROM VOTES, there was an important development to be watched in the Wisconsin contest. Everybody was interested in the way voters and candidates would handle Kennedy's Catholicism.

Wisconsin revealed a few things on that score which will be common currency from now on—especially if Sen. Kennedy nails down the Democratic presidential nomination.

Wisconsin Catholics showed a tendency to use Kennedy's candidacy to prove that a member of their faith is at no disadvantage in a political contest. Many Republican Catholics used Democratic ballots in the presidential primary contest to show their approval of Kennedy. It has not been asserted, on the other hand, that any Catholic Democrats went out of their way to show support for Richard Nixon, who was unopposed on the Republican ballot.

Sen. Kennedy has been refreshingly realistic about the element of his religious faith in politics. He believes it is not a handicap and that it would be no handicap to the Democratic party if he became its presidential candidate. The Wisconsin result confirm his evaluation of the element of religion in presidential politics in 1960. He is stronger for it, not weaker.

ASIDE FROM the rough-and-tumble Democratic contest, the other point of interest was the vote Vice President Nixon could poll without making any campaign and without running against an opponent. This would be a simple gesture of approval, under the circumstances.

Mr. Nixon ran a strong third to the two Democrats who had spent large sums of money and put in prodigious efforts to bring their candidacies to the attention of voters. It is possible he would have been second in the vote totals if so many Catholic Republicans had not used their primary ballots to show their support for Sen. Kennedy in what they saw as an effort to prove a point.

Minimum-Maximum Age Limits

If your 60th birthday is coming in the uncomfortably near future, legal action against the Federal Aviation Agency's order grounding airline pilots 60 years of age or older may be the most interesting thing to watch in 1960.

Once it had been established that a federal agency could set a maximum age limit for employes in one category of interstate enterprise, the precedent could be applied to employes in other categories.

Railroad engineers could be barred beyond a certain age. Truck drivers could be "grounded." Politicians could begin to write federal laws barring contracts to employers who hired anyone over a certain age, just as states have assumed the authority to bar employment to persons under a certain age.

The issue in the order grounding airline pilots is whether or not the "progressive deterioration of both physiological and psychological functions which normally occurs with age" is subject to proof and demonstration. The pilots' union, with a membership of 13,000, is digging in for a fight on this point.

But the real damage that could be done is not the interposition of a federal policy about a man's right to earn a living flying a commercial aircraft. There would be only a handful of pilots affected by such a policy.

But if a precedent gets going that the federal government can tell private enterprise how old or perhaps how young its employes can be, it will be harder to stop than it was to start. The judges who will rule on the question opened by the Federal Aviation Agency's order would do well to remember that Franklin D. Roosevelt once was in favor of sending judges to limbo when they reached what he held to be the end of their useful lives.

Judges took a sour view of the proposal, which was defeated. They argued that it would be foolish to put that much power into executive hands.

No Sin To Talk About Money

The touchiest issue in Washington at the moment is health insurance for the aged. Pro and con mail is flooding Congress. Rumors are hinting of hard feelings in the Eisenhower administration over the issue. Vice President Nixon is believed to be at odds with President Eisenhower, who has given go-slow orders on the whole proposition.

The issue has been joined over the Forand bill in the House. Its author Rep. Aime Joseph Forand, a Democrat from Rhode Island, has become the most widely publicized House member, thanks to attacks on him by opponents of his proposal and statements of support by its friends.

The Forand bill would provide care for over-65 citizens on social security pensions in nursing homes and hospitals. To pay for the care, the old age and survivors insurance tax would be raised on both employers and employes—another ½ of 1 per cent this time.

In general, the pros are retired persons, labor unions, the elderly and the ill. The cons are businessmen, the American Medical Assn. and its members, insurance companies and people who object to the Forand proposal as socialization, an unsound financial proposal and an unwarranted tax on the many for the benefit of the few.

What makes the issue difficult is the fact it is over a matter of money, though it is discussed as a matter of compassion. No one in 1960 is indifferent to suffering and hardship. But prudence is still a virtue. It is not a sin to talk about money.

Rep. Forand, himself, does not have the closed mind that some of his newly acquired friends have developed. His aim is to help people in distress, not to ram his proposal down anyone's throat. "If anyone has a better solution on medical care to the aged than I have," he told The New York Times recently, "let them come up with it."

Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare in the Eisenhower administration, has said in a public hearing the administration has no fixed ideas so far about solving the problem. The problem exists. No one denies that.

The issue is how to develop a solution—whether it could be another addition to the social security tax—another massive federal undertaking—or whether it could be some combination of public and private enterprise that would hold the government's role to a minimum and get rid of the politics in medicine bogey.

If the issue gets into the presidential campaign, as it well may, the showdown will be on what it has been so many times before—prudence vs. profligacy, private control vs. public control.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

He had to give answers to census takers at the White House and his reply to "Do you have hot and cold running water?" must have been "Plenty hot here all the time." We imagine President's census form reads:

Q. Are you leaving anybody out because you are not sure whether he should be listed as someone having another home?

Under other conditions in the same state—with just one Democratic entry who, like Nixon, didn't campaign — Nixon might have done far better.

Yet, there's a chance the big Democratic vote and the low-man-on-the-totem-pole spot Nixon landed in may indicate broad Wisconsin discontent with the Republicans and be the forerunner of a nationwide discontent which can't be expressed till November.

On the other hand Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, no doubt owes a big part of his vote to Catholics, both Democrats and Republicans, since Wisconsin is 39 per cent Catholic.

But when he runs in West Virginia May 10 against Humphrey, in the presidential primary there, there'll be very little Catholic vote to help him since the Catholics in West Virginia total about only 5 per cent of the population.

Perhaps Kennedy would have won the way he did in Wisconsin even if he had been a Protestant and maybe the anti-Catholic sentiment that showed itself against Al Smith in 1928 has died out in this country.

And a heavy vote against Kennedy in Protestant West Virginia might not prove any anti-Catholic sentiment at all but something unrelated.

For instance: West Virginia is not a prosperous state and the people there might feel a closer kinship to Humphrey, a relatively poor man, than to the young millionaire, Kennedy.

What the Wisconsin vote he got means for Humphrey is hard to say. Perhaps, since he got a good turnout in many rural districts, the nation's farmers are fed up with the Eisenhower administration's farm policies.

Or, it could mean only that the farmers felt Humphrey talked language better than Kennedy, since he comes from next-door Minnesota.

Actually the Kennedy - Humphrey race was more a personal popularity contest than a choice between the different ideas the two men stand for. They stand for pretty much the same ideas.

The Years Through

Mrs. Marshall Cronin, census supervisor, announced that the 54 enumerators in Columbiana County were receiving "courteous treatment."

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Charles Lewis, safety - service director, and R. O. Smith, relief director, of Wellsville attended a meeting on relief situations at Columbus.

The proposed $40,000 school expansion program for Wellsville was advanced by the board of education.

John Edward Laughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Laughlin of the Campground Rd., was named first alternate to the Naval Academy at Annapolis from the 18th Congressional District.

Lesson Up In The Sky

By David Lawrence

Long Range Benefits Seen From Satellite

Maybe there's a lesson up in the sky as a small object, with a television camera inside, sends pictures and messages by radio from a height of 450 miles as it circles the earth every 99 minutes.

David Lawrence

Too many people jumped to conclusions when the first Soviet Sputnik began circling the globe 18 months ago. They did not realize that scientific progress cannot be judged by a single project.

Even when the United States started sending out satellites, too, the criticism was made that, after all, the Russians had sent much heavier ones into space—as if weight was the sole criterion!

Now it turns out that American scientists were right in concentrating on scientific experiments rather than on stunts. For the United States today has nine satellites in outer space, while Russia has only three.

Also, the latest satellite sent up weighing only 270 pounds, has in its scientific equipment never before placed into orbit.

The American achievement has prompted Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Democrat, chairman of the Senate's special committee on space problems, to exclaim that the launching of "Tiros I," with its television camera, is "the best space news we have had in a long time."

He added that this would be "a tremendous boon for mankind—a tremendous step toward peace."

IN WHAT WAY does a satellite in the air have anything to do with world peace?

The answer is that inspection of armament from the skies has long been a basic objective of President Eisenhower's disarmament proposals. This means that nations may be able to learn instantly by photographs about military preparations and activities of other nations.

It probably will be possible always to conceal certain weapons but any suspicious movement of large military forces or unusual concentration at bases can be detected from the air so as to give warning against a surprise attack.

The advantages of the earth-circling instruments are not by any means confined to the military side. There is a definite prospect that information will be collected about the origin of weather conditions so that advance data will enable the earth's inhabitants better to prepare against dangerous trends in the weather.

In this connection, Sen. Kenneth Keating (R-N.Y.) who conducts a weekly television broadcast over a network of stations in New York State, was the other day interviewing Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and asked him what was to be derived from the expenditure of millions of dollars for research into space. Dr. Glennan replied:

"I think it is only honest to say that we probably will have no economic benefits immediately from this activity but it is clear that we will have economic benefits in the long run, particularly in fields such as meteorology and the field of communications. . . . It's a new technology and as we devise new processes, new techniques, these come back into industry and really pay off."

DR. GLENNAN spoke of "Pioneer V," the satellite which, as of midnight April 5, had traveled 3,491,932 miles away from the earth and still is in communication. He added:

"We're getting information about the radiation fields in space. We're understanding a little bit more of the magnetic fields out in space. We're getting back very good information on the temperatures both inside the package and outside the package. I suppose the most important information, however, is the assurance that we have that we seem to be able to talk to this thing out there. . . .

"It talks back. We talk to it, send it a signal, turn on the amplifier out in space and it sends back these coded bits of information which we then put through a computer. We were able to get temperatures and pressures and radiation information from 2½ million miles out there. We expect to do this clear out to 50 million miles."

This particular project was approved in November 1958, after a lengthy study.

It has taken 16 months of heavy effort, according to Dr. Glennan, and the total cost is about 12 to 15 million dollars up to date.

"I don't think we're behind the Russians," remarks the head of America's space projects. He speaks of some Soviet superiority in the "thrust" in rocket systems but indicates that this can be surmounted soon. Here is his conclusion:

"In terms of the long-range benefits, in terms of the solid accomplishments that have come from these two programs (Russian and American), I think there is no question but what we're ahead."

In a few years there will be a man in outer space. But America's objective is not to perform stunts. It is to gather knowledge for the benefit of mankind.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I predict a total collapse of enterprise the first warm day of spring. Never have so many waited so long for blood-warming sunshine, and when it happens the results will be cataclysmic.

In politics and in sports, contestants usually respect each other, while the bad blood is found among spectators who do not understand the difference between playing a game and conducting a feud.

The time is at hand when rotary grass mowers are as universally popular as reel mowers once were, but the fact remains there are some lawns that cannot be mowed satisfactorily with rotary blades.

My sympathy is available for two categories of performers who frequently get a raw deal, in my opinion. One is actors, who need only the right role to become famous. The other is baseball players, who need only the confidence of a manager to prove they are major leaguers.

The net result of everything I have observed about education is a conviction that being educated is not an absolute state but a state of mind in which the pursuit of knowledge seems more worthwhile than the defense of ignorance.

The most gratifying entertainment made available by television is the uniformly high grade of dancing staged for millions of people like me who otherwise would have no chance to see this form of entertainment.

The most flagrant waste of public money is patchwork on secondary roads that go to pot each spring and must be done over year after year. If they were built permanently in the first place, they would cost less over a decade.

The most trying test of my composure recently was to walk behind a lady who obviously was a burlesque performer on her way to work to remember that no one would notice a pop-eyed pedestrian walking three steps behind her.

I never go to an airport but what I remember how people used to mill around busy railroad stations, once the most exciting centers of activity in towns lucky enough to be situated on the main line.

For one dime, 10 cents, it is still possible to get a sizable stick of hard licorice, the world's best bargain in ruminative ecstasy.

If I were gunning for a grand prize in legislative reform, I would propose a change whereby every suggested law would be introduced, put through committee and voted on buckity-buckity, so the public could keep track of it. The alternative is a state of delay in which no one knows what is happening—and this includes legislators.

Personal nomination for the most bromidic bit in television—the phony scene in which the pitchman or the master of ceremonies pretends to be interrupted or taken by surprise after hours of rehearsal.

One of my cherished Christmas presents was an umbrella—the first I ever owned. I have yet to find the right occasion to use it, though I have been keeping it handy for three months.

All I knew about Hawaii before reading James Michener's "Hawaii" could have been printed on one side of one page of what seems to me to be the most useful and certainly the timeliest book of recent years—a compendium of useful information about the 50th state, sugar-coated with fiction.

Letter To Editor

Just who is the IBOP, Mr. Wheatley & Co. or the membership at large?

If they are so sure the members want a new building why are they so reluctant to grant a referendum vote on this matter? They have grabbed at every straw to try and prevent a referendum.

I have been a member over 40 years and have always expressed my opinions according to my own belief, but I have never before been called a "Quisling".

Ohio Bell Again Fights Excise Tax Extension

CLEVELAND — The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. once again is calling on its 1,650,000 customers to combat the proposed extension of the 10 per cent federal excise on local telephone service.

The Negro In America

Freedom Brought Confusion, Grief

(The emancipation of Negroes during the Civil War brought enormous changes—and problems. This third of four articles by a well-known historian tells the story of the Negro in the Reconstruction Era, which set the stage for conflicts yet to come.)

By C. VANN WOODWARD
Written for The Associated Press

Adjustment to freedom was not easy for the liberated slaves. The year of Jubilee was also a year of wandering, confusion and terrible suffering for great numbers of them.

They came to freedom wearing the rags of slavery and the marks of ingrained dependency and subjugation. The large majority came without property, education or literacy, without even legally recognized marriages or family names.

The freedman's adjustment to freedom and citizenship was furthur complicated by the confusion of the white man's policy.

The mind of the North was itself divided and confused on the subject, but Johnson misread its underlying mood and gave the South the impression that less was expected than really was the case.

WHILE Southern whites conceded the end of slavery, they did not believe the free Negro would settle down and work without special compulsion.

Using the opportunity offered by Johnson, the southern states adopted "black codes" which generally curbed the rights of Negroes in various ways with a view to forcing them to work, increasing the power of their employers over them, and limiting their freedom of movement, kinds of employment, freedom of speech, and right to possess firearms. The right to vote was withheld and so was full citizenship.

The new laws angered Northern friends of the Negro, but they would have been powerless had they not enlisted the aid of powerful political and business interests.

The politicians feared that the return of the South without Negro franchise would unseat the party in power, and the business interests feared unfriendly legislation that might result. These forces worked together to overthrow Johnsonian Reconstruction in 1867 and impose Radical Reconstruction. New federal laws and constitutional amendments disfranchised thousands of Southern whites and enfranchised the Negro freedmen.

THE FREEDMEN were plunged immediately into full scale participation in all phases of political life in a period of abnormal political activity.

They proved remarkably modest in their demands and moderate in their conduct. In no state did they hold offices in proportion to their voting strength, and only rarely did they seize control in local government.

Only three Negroes were elected to the first Congress to which they were eligible. In no Congress were there more than eight Negroes in the entire Southern delegations that numbered more than 100. Negroes, nevertheless, occupied all varieties of public office, including two United States senatorships but no governorship. Some were ignorant and awkward and a few were dishonest. Considering the resources of the Negroes, however, one is more impressed by the number of sober, honest, and capable leaders and public servants they produced.

Put to a test of self-government such as no other people ever had been subjected to, the Negro was unfairly blamed for the mistakes of Reconstruction and not sufficiently credited with its accomplishments.

Their Northern friends began to lose interest in their welfare. Southern conservatives, resorting to the race issue to unite white people, drove out the Reconstruction governments and took control themselves. In 1877 the last federal troops were withdrawn, and the control of the Negro was largely left to the Southern whites.

The Negroes were not disfranchised nor subjected to full segregation immediately after Reconstruction. That came later.

They continued to vote in large numbers in some states for two decades or more. At least one Negro from the South was a member of every Congress but one until 1901. Political activities of the Negroes were definitely curtailed, however, and they sought salvation in other fields.

FOR A TIME training as skilled workmen enabled many freedmen to establish themselves strongly in the crafts and trades.

Others found opportunities in the mining and forestry industries and some in factories. The majority stuck to agriculture as share croppers. In the towns and cities a new Negro middle class of businessmen and professional people emerged to serve their own race.

With the aid of philanthropists, they built colleges at Nashville, Washington, Atlanta and elsewhere and began to train their own scholars, writers and leaders. The Negro's contribution to the building of the New South was as vital as his role had been in building the old.

The future of the Negro darkened toward the end of the century. Racial animosity released new hatreds and violence all over the country.

Epidemics of race riots broke out and the crime of lynching reached an unprecedented peak in the 1890s, with the Negro always the most frequent victim. He was driven from crafts and trades in which he had long been established by jealous white labor and further discriminated against by employers. Politicians made capital of racial feeling to deprive Negroes of jobs on the municipal, state, and federal levels.

In the 90s the movement to disfranchise the Negro got under way, reached a climax at the turn of the century, and was completed throughout the South in the first decade of the 20th Century.

Simultaneously, there flourished a drive to extend the practice of segregation, to codify it elaborately and enforce it rigidly. Segregation was imposed not only on trains and streetcars, but in public parks, buildings, places of amusement, everywhere down to prisons, asylums, and cemeteries.

Protest was voiced by Negro poets and scholars, but the most influential voice was that of Booker T. Washington, master of Tuskegee Institute.

He did not condone injustice, but urged his people to turn from politics and militant protest to industry, hard work and material improvement and hope for better things later. His counsel prevailed until his death in 1915 and among many for years thereafter.

galiso Sobukwe, told a court in Johannesburg today that nonwhite Africans "have no moral obligation to obey" South African laws which are made by a white government.

Sobukwe and 22 other PAC leaders were charged with inciting Negroes to defy the laws which required nonwhites to carry pass identity cards. Demonstrations against these hated passes touched off the racial strife three weeks ago.

The government came under increasing pressure today from businessmen to make overtures to Negro leaders for an end to the racial crisis.

Some influential Afrikaner business leaders were reported considering an appeal to Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd to consult with nonwhite leaders in search of a compromise in the bitter, bloody conflict. Verwoerd and his National party are the political spokesmen for the Afrikaner community, the descendants of the country's early Dutch settlers.

Verwoerd so far has refused to treat with the Negro leaders.

The business leaders were motivated by a double pinch on the South African economy: the labor shortage resulting from Negro workers staying at home in protest against the government, and the effect on sales abroad of boycotts of South African goods and the threat of more foreign sanctions.

In open defiance of widespread world opinion and local appeals for moderation, the government announced a revival of the hated passes for nonwhites — The immediate issue that sparked off the racial rioting.

Committee Starts Planning For Midland July 4th Fete

Midland's Fourth of July committee met Wednesday evening to name chairmen and begin plans for the annual event which draws thousands of spectators from the Tri-State area.

The committee agreed that this year's celebration will follow along lines of last year's with some improvements to provide greater entertainment.

George M. Burrier, manager of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., and an honorary member, assured the committee that the company will participate as always.

O. N. Carter, finance chairman, will launch solicitation plans to raise funds. Letters to various parade units and drill teams will be sent by Charles P. Henderson, Lincoln High School band director, who is program chairman, and John Fantone and John Reider, past and present commanders, respectively, of American Legion Post 481.

The committee discussed tentatively such changes from last year as larger bursts of fireworks rather than single shots, thus cutting time which could be given another event.

Also discussed were fewer night variety acts, with perhaps a main one, and expanded drill team exhibitions. Other events, to be planned, will include a flag rasing ceremony, afternoon concerts and variety acts, children's races and a ball game.

Other chairmen include Burgess Eli G. Corak, general; William Black, treasurer; Mrs. Malena Westlake, secretary; Joseph D'Alesio, USW Local 1212 president, prizes.

Capt. William MacBurney, Crucible plant protection superintendent, fireworks; Police Chief E. J. Stefl, police work and safety, and Earl Rankin, publicity.

Next meeting will be April 27 at 7:30 p. m. in the Council Chambers in the Borough Building.

Freedom Brought Confusion, Grief

(The emancipation of Negroes during the Civil War brought enormous changes—and problems. This third of four articles by a well-known historian tells the story of the Negro in the Reconstruction Era, which set the stage for conflicts yet to come.)

By C. VANN WOODWARD
Written for The Associated Press

Adjustment to freedom was not easy for the liberated slaves. The year of Jubilee was also a year of wandering, confusion and terrible suffering for great numbers of them.

They came to freedom wearing the rags of slavery and the marks of ingrained dependency and subjugation. The large majority came without property, education or literacy, without even legally recognized marriages or family names.

The freedman's adjustment to freedom and citizenship was furthur complicated by the confusion of the white man's policy.

The mind of the North was itself divided and confused on the subject, but Johnson misread its underlying mood and gave the South the impression that less was expected than really was the case.

WHILE Southern whites conceded the end of slavery, they did not believe the free Negro would settle down and work without special compulsion.

Using the opportunity offered by Johnson, the southern states adopted "black codes" which generally curbed the rights of Negroes in various ways with a view to forcing them to work, increasing the power of their employers over them, and limiting their freedom of movement, kinds of employment, freedom of speech, and right to possess firearms. The right to vote was withheld and so was full citizenship.

The new laws angered Northern friends of the Negro, but they would have been powerless had they not enlisted the aid of powerful political and business interests.

The politicians feared that the return of the South without Negro franchise would unseat the party in power, and the business interests feared unfriendly legislation that might result. These forces worked together to overthrow Johnsonian Reconstruction in 1867 and impose Radical Reconstruction. New federal laws and constitutional amendments disfranchised thousands of Southern whites and enfranchised the Negro freedmen.

THE FREEDMEN were plunged immediately into full scale participation in all phases of political life in a period of abnormal political activity.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going steady with Rick for eight months. For my birthday he gave me a $3 bracelet. For his birthday I gave him a bill fold which cost $3.50 and I spent an extra $2 to put my picture in it.

For Christmas he gave me a framed portrait of himself which he said cost $6. (I think it was less.) I gave him a pair of gloves which cost $7.

On Valentine's Day he gave me a box of candy which I found out sold for $2. I was very disappointed as I bought him a $5 key chain.

After thinking it over, it seems that I must like him more than he likes me. Do you agree? Please help me see things clearly. — CORA.

Dear Cora: How do you expect to see anything with those dollar signs on your eyeballs? Do you have a bookkeeper or do you do all this yourself?

It's difficult to tell what he thinks but it's easy to figure out what's important to you. Nothing is so unappetizing as a girl who is hoping her prince in shining armor will drive up in an armored money wagon — and I do mean YOU.

Thorns In Romance

Dear Ann: A widower nearly 60 has been attentive to me for more than a year. I care a great deal for him.

He hasn't told me so himself but I've heard from others that he'd like to marry me but his children are against it. They don't object to me as a person. They just don't want me to come into any of their father's estate if he should die before I do.

I have a nice income of my own and don't need this man's money. I'd be perfectly willing to sign a pre-marital agreement which would leave everything to his children. All I want is his love and companionship.

How can I tell him so without appearing to be rushing him into marriage? — PREDICAMENT.

Dear Predicament: Unless you speak another language fluently, tell him in English.

If he's interested in your company on a dating basis only, you'll find out promptly. You can then decide whether or not you want to continue. In my opinion you have nothing to lose and much to gain.

Lesson In Tolerance

Dear Ann: I can't be objective about this so my wife suggested I write to you.

My older sister is unpleasant and disagreeable. She has very few friends and is on bad terms with all the relatives.

For the past several years my wife and I have made it a practice to call on her Christmas Day and take gifts. She always has gifts for us when we arrive.

We never fail to drop her a thank you note. She has yet to phone or drop a line saying she liked our presents. Our children feel hurt because they save out of their allowance to buy their aunt a gift they hope she will like.

Should we cross her off our list or ignore her rudeness? — BELLYFUL.

Dear Bellyful: Keep her on your list as a lesson in tolerance and understanding for your children. Let them learn to treat people nicely and to do the right thing — regardless of what others may do.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dieters Learn To Enjoy Reducing Fare

Let us take a fresh look at something every-day common place — the three meals a day. What is it you enjoy most about food? The taste of course, along with a satisfied feeling of having dined well. Give serious thought to this next question: Do you eat for taste satisfaction, or to fill your stomach?

By Ida Jean Kain

A teen-ager expressed it succintly when she wrote, "I eat the first helping so fast I hardly taste the food...then I have to have seconds to know what the dish really tastes like." As she pointed out, that practice is frightfully fattening.

THE EXTRA ingredient of attention given to the food eaten makes a significant difference in taste satisfaction. Dieters discover that this is the way to enjoy reducing fare.

A newspaper man who succeeded in knocking off 45 excess pounds, reported, "I have, while dieting, re-discovered the pleasure of eating. A meal isn't just a habit any more. It is an occasion of importance and great delight. I really enjoy food more than I ever have in my life."

Where is appetite fed, in the stomach or in the head? Think of appetite as being more influenced by habit than by physical need and you are on the right track. Appetite, while associated with hunger, is partly in the mind.

True hunger is physical and represents a need for food. False appetite can be satisfied only by cetain favorite foods. Remember our dieter who licked the pounds with this test question: "Am I hungry enough to eat cold mush?"

Which tempts you to overeat, appetite or hunger? Appetite, particularly the appetite for favorite foods.

Here's the big question: How does your appetite get out of hand and too big for your requirements? Through the practice of overeating. What it amounts to is that overeating stretches the stomach, then it takes more food to fill the space and signify fullness.

IT WILL TAKE from one to three weeks to cut your appetite down to slimming size. A successful dieter gives this recipe: "Plan three good meals a day, low in calories; eat them on schedule, and take time to enjoy the meal. "Get up from the table before you feel fully satisfied. No matter how big your appetite, you can, in three weeks, shrink it down to size."

The title of his presentation will be "Table Fashions for Today—a Look at Yesterday's, Today's and Tommorrow's Consumer." To illustrate his points, he will use dinnerware furnished by leading Philadelphia stores.

The other three district men will present technical papers in the sessions of the society's whitewares division.

Burgess M. Hurd of the Ceramic Color & Chemical Manufacturing Co. at New Brighton will present a paper on "Chrome In Pinks and Maroons." "The Plastic Process" will be discussed by W. David Spore of Shenango China, Inc., at New Castle.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going steady with Rick for eight months. For my birthday he gave me a $3 bracelet. For his birthday I gave him a bill fold which cost $3.50 and I spent an extra $2 to put my picture in it.

For Christmas he gave me a framed portrait of himself which he said cost $6. (I think it was less.) I gave him a pair of gloves which cost $7.

On Valentine's Day he gave me a box of candy which I found out sold for $2. I was very disappointed as I bought him a $5 key chain.

After thinking it over, it seems that I must like him more than he likes me. Do you agree? Please help me see things clearly. — CORA.

Dear Cora: How do you expect to see anything with those dollar signs on your eyeballs? Do you have a bookkeeper or do you do all this yourself?

It's difficult to tell what he thinks but it's easy to figure out what's important to you. Nothing is so unappetizing as a girl who is hoping her prince in shining armor will drive up in an armored money wagon — and I do mean YOU.

Thorns In Romance

Dear Ann: A widower nearly 60 has been attentive to me for more than a year. I care a great deal for him.

He hasn't told me so himself but I've heard from others that he'd like to marry me but his children are against it. They don't object to me as a person. They just don't want me to come into any of their father's estate if he should die before I do.

I have a nice income of my own and don't need this man's money. I'd be perfectly willing to sign a pre-marital agreement which would leave everything to his children. All I want is his love and companionship.

How can I tell him so without appearing to be rushing him into marriage? — PREDICAMENT.

Dear Predicament: Unless you speak another language fluently, tell him in English.

If he's interested in your company on a dating basis only, you'll find out promptly. You can then decide whether or not you want to continue. In my opinion you have nothing to lose and much to gain.

Lesson In Tolerance

Dear Ann: I can't be objective about this so my wife suggested I write to you.

My older sister is unpleasant and disagreeable. She has very few friends and is on bad terms with all the relatives.

For the past several years my wife and I have made it a practice to call on her Christmas Day and take gifts. She always has gifts for us when we arrive.

We never fail to drop her a thank you note. She has yet to phone or drop a line saying she liked our presents. Our children feel hurt because they save out of their allowance to buy their aunt a gift they hope she will like.

Should we cross her off our list or ignore her rudeness? — BELLYFUL.

Dear Bellyful: Keep her on your list as a lesson in tolerance and understanding for your children. Let them learn to treat people nicely and to do the right thing — regardless of what others may do.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dieters Learn To Enjoy Reducing Fare

Let us take a fresh look at something every-day common place — the three meals a day. What is it you enjoy most about food? The taste of course, along with a satisfied feeling of having dined well. Give serious thought to this next question: Do you eat for taste satisfaction, or to fill your stomach?

By Ida Jean Kain

A teen-ager expressed it succintly when she wrote, "I eat the first helping so fast I hardly taste the food...then I have to have seconds to know what the dish really tastes like." As she pointed out, that practice is frightfully fattening.

Experiment. At your very next meal, really taste every forkful of food eaten.

THE EXTRA ingredient of attention given to the food eaten makes a significant difference in taste satisfaction. Dieters discover that this is the way to enjoy reducing fare.

Hines' Plea Rejected To End Prison Stay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has rejected John M. Hines' plea to end his penitentiary stay. Hines was sentenced in the deaths of seven motorists on the Ohio Turnpike Nov. 7, 1958.

Young Driver Shuns Hearing; Judge Issues Bench Warrant

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ordered issuance of a bench warrant Wednesday for the arrest of an 18-year-old Wellsville district driver—fined on two charges last week—who was due in court yesterday morning on a new charge of speeding.

The warrant was served on Samuel J. Laneve, 554 Campground Rd., who was arrested early Sunday on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Laneve entered a "no contest" plea when he appeared before the judge this morning accompanied by his counsel, Atty. Lawrence W. Smith Jr. The court continued the hearing until 9 a. m. Friday to arrange the appearance of the arresting officer.

Because Laneve had been penalized on two offenses last week, Judge Chertoff said he wanted the defendant to appear personally. He ordered forfeiture of the $31 appearance bond Laneve had posted for the case Wednesday.

Laneve was fined a total of $50 and costs last week on charges of reckless driving and illegal registration. Judge Chertoff later suspended $15 of the fine when Laneve furnished proof of new registration.

Meanwhile, Jerome Drago, 229 8th St., Wellsville, forfeited a $31 bond Wednesday on a speeding charge. He was cited Sunday on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. by the patrol.

Wilbur Zander, 1058 Mapletree St., was fined a total of $40 and costs on two charges filed by city police—$15 and costs for speeding 55 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on Harvey Ave. and $25 and costs for lack of an operator's permit. He was cited at 12:10 a. m. Wednesday on Harvey Ave.

Paul Berman of W. 4th St. Ext. was fined $5 and costs when the judge convicted him after a hearing Wednesday on a charge of crashing a stop sign at the intersection of State Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd. in Glenmoor. Cited March 24 by the patrol, Berman pleaded not guilty.

Site For New State Office Building Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 1½ block square area just southeast of the Capitol has been selected as the site for a new state office building complex, the DiSalle administration announced Wednesday.

Public Works Director T. J. Kauer notified the Slum Clearance and Rehabilitation Commission of Columbus that the state will pay $4 a square foot for the land.

The last Legislature provided 11 million dollars as a start toward construction costs of a new office building to put scattered state offices under one roof. No measurements of the site were available but it was believed to contain some 211,000 square feet, which would cost about $844,000.

Part of the money for the new structure will come from the 150-million-dollar bond issue approved by Ohio voters several years ago to provide new university buildings, mental and penal institutions and school and public buildings.

Kauer did not explain exactly what is meant by an office building complex but it appeared that far more than the original 11 million dollars will be needed to complete the job.

Some observers speculated that a Highway Department office building, for which 5 million dollars is available, might be located on the site with the originally planned office building.

Chester Meeting Set To Organize CD Group

Plans for organization of a Civil Defense unit in Chester will be discussed at a public meeting April 15 at 7:30 p. m. at the American Legion home.

Police Chief Harold Davis, the city's CD director, said committees from various civic organizations and interested persons have been invited.

Couple Lives On $15 A Month In Pre-Revolutionary Home

BOYERTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Annie Reitnauer, 78, and her husband, William, 76, live in a partly collapsed pre-Revolutionary home. It has no water, electricity, heating or plumbing facilities. They live on $15 a month.

When asked what she wanted more than anything else, Annie replied: "I'd like to have a pound of margarine because it makes fried potatoes so much better than lard does. It browns them nicer."

Neighbors and relatives have offered help.

"I think people are so very kind for wanting to help us but we really don't need much," said Mrs. Reitnauer as she stood in the cluttered kitchen of the farm home some 10 miles from this eastern Pennsylvania community.

A Pottstown, Pa., realtor offered them a home as a gift, and a neighbor offered to build them a three-room bungalow free but the couple didn't want to leave because as Mrs. Reitnauer put it: "I wouldn't be happy anywhere but here."

Wednesday, however, Annie realized it could be dangerous staying in the home. "At night now we can hear the stone and cement falling and the boards creaking back and forth," she said.

So the couple agreed to take up the neighbor's offer to build the three-room bungalow with the stipulation it be constructed on their once-productive 50-acre farm which is virtually worthless now.

Neighbors say the Reitnauers need everything but they are happy and content.

During the summer the two live mostly on berries and grapes which they pick. In extremely cold weather they move to a barn on their property. The barn has a stove.

Asked about the future, Annie said: "We'll get along. We always have."

Indians Win Slugfest By Nipping Chicago

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Frank Lane, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, says the other clubs in the American League now wish they had not let the National League get a head start on the baseball sseason.

The NL voted to start a week early this year and swings into action next week. American League squads continue to play exhibitions until the following week.

"Cleveland was the only club to vote against the late start," Lane declared Wednesday. "Now the clubs who voted for it wish they had voted against it.

"Look at all the publicity the National League will get while we're still playing exhibitions. And then there'll be the added cost of another week of training."

Lane thinks after this the two leagues will start off together again.

The Indians Wednesday put catcher Ed Fitzgerald on the retired list and added him officially to the coaching staff. Fitzgerald, 35, could be put back on the roster if either Russ Nixon or John Romano should get hurt.

In a slugfest with the Chicago Cubs, the Indians garnered 14 hits to 16 for Chicago but won 10-9.

The victory came on a ninth-inning rally that overcame a four-run deficit.

The Cubs scored seven runs in the eighth and ninth to pile up what looked like a safe margin.

A pinch double by Bob Hale with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth drove in three Cleveland runs, tying the score. An intentional walk to Nixon loaded the bases again, and Norm Cash lifted a fly to short left field to drive in the winning run.

Jim Grant, starting pitcher for Cleveland, allowed two runs in five innings. He was followed by Dick Stigman, who held the Cubs scoreless in the sixth and seventh before getting wild. The Cubs scored three runs off Bob Tiefenauer, who relieved Stigman, and three more off Bobby Locke.

The Indians meet St. Louis here today.

Snead, Nicklaus Look Good

Masters Tourney Opens

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead and the 20-year-old U.S. amateur champion, Jackie Nicklaus, rode the hottest streaks into today's opening round of the 24th Masters Golf Tournament.

A field of 84—67 professionals and 17 amateurs — starts the four-day, 72-hole test over the Augusta National course.

Nicklaus, from Columbus, Ohio, rocked the game's elite with a brilliant final practice round of 66, six under par. He bulled his way over the massive, 6,850-yard course as if it were a plaything and announced afterward: "I'm not here for the amateur prize—I want to win the tournament."

For those who try to handicap a golf tournament the way they would a horse race, Snead and Nicklaus are high in favor.

Arnold Palmer is the advance favorite at odds of 6-1. The year's leading money winner with $26,000-plus and four tournament victories on his belt, the young, bull-like pro from Ligonier, Pa., is the solid pick of most players and spectators.

Behind Palmer in favoritism is Ken Venturi, the popular San Francisco youngster who has been a sentimental choice since he let the Masters crown slip away in 1956. Venturi is an 8-1 bet, followed by Snead and Cary Middlecoff, the latter experimenting with a new driver.

Lepcio Feuds With Sawyer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Infielder Ted Lepcio of the Philadelphia Phillies, angry over being classified by Manager Eddie Sawyer as "one of the worst ball players I ever saw," today challenged Sawyer to send him back to the American League.

"Or wherever it is bad ball players go," added the 29-year-old Utica, N. Y., native who played eight seasons in the American League with Boston and Detroit before being obtained by the Phillies in a trade last winter.

"How can the man (Sawyer) say a thing like that?" Lepcio shook his head. "Even if he thought it, what was the point in making that kind of comment?

Lepcio opened the season last year with Boston but later was sent to Detroit.

Sawyer didn't immediately say anything about Lepcio's comments but some of the Phillies' players decided he was merely trying to shake the team up by arousing Lepcio and some of the veterans such as Harry Anderson and Wally Post.

Potter-Weirton Game Is Called Off Today

The East Liverpool - Weirton baseball game scheduled for this afternoon was postponed because of wet grounds and cold weather. The game may be played sometime in May. The contest was slated for Weirton.

Winter Trades Looked Real Good Wednesday

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox traded for Gene Freese and Minnie Minoso in a bid to retain the American League pennant. The New York Yankees acquired Roger Maris in a move to regain the AL title. The Cleveland Indians dealt for Bubba Phillips and bought Bob Hale to try and win that same championship.

And brother, those winter deals looked good Wednesday in spring training games.

Here's what happened as the White Sox, Indians and Yankees (they finished in that order in 1959) turned in close exhibition victories.

Freese and Minoso had two of the three hits that produced the White Sox' runs in a 2-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers at Sarasota.

Maris had four hits, including the game-breaker in the Yankees 11th-inning rally that nipped the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 at St. Petersburg.

Hale delivered a bases-loaded double and Phillips walked to force in the winning run as the Indians scored four times in the ninth and defeated the Chicago Cubs 10-9 at Tucson.

In other games Wednesday, the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 in 12 innings at Jacksonville, the St. Louis Cardinals outdid the Boston Red Sox 13-10 at Scottsdale, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the San Francisco Giants 14-10 at Phoenix, and the Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 in 10 innings at Fort Myers. Kansas City and Washington were idle.

Action To Resume Friday

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Four crack teams with enough talent to make any coach elated pulled up in the semi-finals of the Junior Basetball Tournament by sidelining the opposition in rather convincing fashion Wednesday nig at Memorial Auditorium.

Advancing to the final night of action Friday were Robberts Drugs of Bridgeport, co-favorite Travelers Hotel of East Liverpool, Eason Insurance (Swissvale High School) and American Vitrified Products (Canton Timken High School.)

The select four are the survivors from an original field of 13 teams which started battling Tuesday for the 1960 championship of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club-sponsored tournament.

An assorted collection of hot-shots from up and down the Ohio Valley exhibited their hardwood ability in flashy style to lead their teams to victory in the quarter-finals last night.

The quartet of finalists is headed by Roberts Drugs, boasting stars from Martins Ferry, Bridgeport and Wheeling, a squad that set a new record for the tournament in blasting aside Harsh Billiards of Minerva, 100-34.

Co-favorite to reach the championship game is Travelers Hotel, listing sharpshooters from Salem, Youngstown and East Liverpool. The hotel squad sidelined Russell's Dairy of Wellsville, 77-61, to advance to the final round.

Defending champion Eason Insurance, the Swissvale High School varsity, qualified for further action by rallying late to sweep aside Jones Market of Mansfield, 75-62.

American Vitrified Products, the Canton Timken High varsity that compiled a 24-1 season record, stayed alive by edging Marland Heights Drugs of Weirton, 75-71, in a close game.

The two city entries — Travelers Hotel and Eason Insurance—form the lower bracket semi-finalists and are set to take the floor Friday night at 7:30.

The upper bracket pairs Bridgeport against Canton Timken High's Trojans in the opening game at 7. That battle could turn out to be nominated as a classic.

All-Ohio Nick Milasnovich poured in 27 points and Bruce Osborne, an all-city selection at Youngstown Chaney, scored 20 to lead Travelers Hotel past Russell's Dairy of Wellsville.

Milasnovich, a slender guard from Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, teamed with Vienna High School's John Berecek, 6-5, and Osborne, 6-3, to provide adequate scoring power for the winners.

Franklin Jackson, Wellsville High center, scored 21 points to take individual honors for Russell's Dairy. Milt Lamp added 11 for Coach Jerry Russell's dairymen.

Travelers Hotel, coached by Jim Harris of East Liverpool, was strengthened by an appearance of All-Ohio Dave Hunter of Salem. Hunter scored nine points but shot sparingly and was used mostly to start the attack.

Canton Central High's hotshot, Nick Palotta, fired in 30 points—high mark for the tournament thus far—in leading American Vitrified to victory over Marlin Heights. All-Ohio John Namciu added 15 for the winners. The Weirton entry, a tourney champion in 1958, was led by Don Conners who scored 20.

Roberts Drugs, led by the tall inside trio of John Koss, 6-5, from Wheeling, Bob Patton, 6-4, from Martins Ferry, and Doug Kinnison, 6-5, from Bellaire had little trouble in disposing of Minerva.

Koss, the big center, dumped in 28 points, Patton hit for 25 and Kinnison 12 to lead the druggists. Phil Musgrave of Steubenville collected 16 and hit the final basket that gave Roberts Drugs 100 points and a new standard for the tournament.

The Minerva club, weary from playing in another tournament only two hours before, posed little opposition for the Bridgeport club. Top effort for Minerva was turned in by Ron Hardgrove, Tri-County League leading scorer, who got 10.

Eason Insurance overcame a bad first half to pull ahead after three quarters and sideline Jones Market of Mansfield. The defending champs were led by workhorse guard Jack Byrnes who scored 24 points. Bob Kane added 20 for the Swissvale High winners.

The closest game of the evening was provided by stubborn Marland Heights composed of Weirton Madonna players. Behind by as many as 18 points in the third quarter, the Weirton club finished strong and threw a bad scare into Canton Timken before bowing.

Trophies will be awarded following the championship game by club officials. Individual awards will include most valuable player, best foul shot and high point man.

Indians Win Slugfest By Nipping Chicago

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Frank Lane, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, says the other clubs in the American League now wish they had not let the National League get a head start on the baseball sseason.

The NL voted to start a week early this year and swings into action next week. American League squads continue to play exhibitions until the following week.

"Cleveland was the only club to vote against the late start," Lane declared Wednesday. "Now the clubs who voted for it wish they had voted against it.

"Look at all the publicity the National League will get while we're still playing exhibitions. And then there'll be the added cost of another week of training."

Lane thinks after this the two leagues will start off together again.

The Indians Wednesday put catcher Ed Fitzgerald on the retired list and added him officially to the coaching staff. Fitzgerald, 35, could be put back on the roster if either Russ Nixon or John Romano should get hurt.

In a slugfest with the Chicago Cubs, the Indians garnered 14 hits to 16 for Chicago but won 10-9.

The victory came on a ninth-inning rally that overcame a four-run deficit.

The Cubs scored seven runs in the eighth and ninth to pile up what looked like a safe margin.

A pinch double by Bob Hale with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth drove in three Cleveland runs, tying the score. An intentional walk to Nixon loaded the bases again, and Norm Cash lifted a fly to short left field to drive in the winning run.

Jim Grant, starting pitcher for Cleveland, allowed two runs in five innings. He was followed by Dick Stigman, who held the Cubs scoreless in the sixth and seventh before getting wild. The Cubs scored three runs off Bob Tiefenauer, who relieved Stigman, and three more off Bobby Locke.

The Indians meet St. Louis here today.

Snead, Nicklaus Look Good

Masters Tourney Opens

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead and the 20-year-old U.S. amateur champion, Jackie Nicklaus, rode the hottest streaks into today's opening round of the 24th Masters Golf Tournament.

A field of 84—67 professionals and 17 amateurs — starts the four-day, 72-hole test over the Augusta National course.

Nicklaus, from Columbus, Ohio, rocked the game's elite with a brilliant final practice round of 66, six under par. He bulled his way over the massive, 6,850-yard course as if it were a plaything and announced afterward: "I'm not here for the amateur prize—I want to win the tournament."

For those who try to handicap a golf tournament the way they would a horse race, Snead and Nicklaus are high in favor.

Arnold Palmer is the advance favorite at odds of 6-1. The year's leading money winner with $26,000-plus and four tournament victories on his belt, the young, bull-like pro from Ligonier, Pa., is the solid pick of most players and spectators.

Behind Palmer in favoritism is Ken Venturi, the popular San Francisco youngster who has been a sentimental choice since he let the Masters crown slip away in 1956. Venturi is an 8-1 bet, followed by Snead and Cary Middlecoff, the latter experimenting with a new driver.

Lepcio Feuds With Sawyer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Infielder Ted Lepcio of the Philadelphia Phillies, angry over being classified by Manager Eddie Sawyer as "one of the worst ball players I ever saw," today challenged Sawyer to send him back to the American League.

"Or wherever it is bad ball players go," added the 29-year-old Utica, N. Y., native who played eight seasons in the American League with Boston and Detroit before being obtained by the Phillies in a trade last winter.

"How can the man (Sawyer) say a thing like that?" Lepcio shook his head. "Even if he thought it, what was the point in making that kind of comment?

Lepcio opened the season last year with Boston but later was sent to Detroit.

Sawyer didn't immediately say anything about Lepcio's comments but some of the Phillies' players decided he was merely trying to shake the team up by arousing Lepcio and some of the veterans such as Harry Anderson and Wally Post.

Winter Trades Looked Real Good Wednesday

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox traded for Gene Freese and Minnie Minoso in a bid to retain the American League pennant. The New York Yankees acquired Roger Maris in a move to regain the AL title. The Cleveland Indians dealt for Bubba Phillips and bought Bob Hale to try and win that same championship.

And brother, those winter deals looked good Wednesday in spring training games.

Here's what happened as the White Sox, Indians and Yankees (they finished in that order in 1959) turned in close exhibition victories.

Freese and Minoso had two of the three hits that produced the White Sox' runs in a 2-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers at Sarasota.

Maris had four hits, including the game-breaker in the Yankees 11th-inning rally that nipped the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 at St. Petersburg.

Hale delivered a bases-loaded double and Phillips walked to force in the winning run as the Indians scored four times in the ninth and defeated the Chicago Cubs 10-9 at Tucson.

In other games Wednesday, the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 in 12 innings at Jacksonville, the St. Louis Cardinals outdid the Boston Red Sox 13-10 at Scottsdale, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the San Francisco Giants 14-10 at Phoenix, and the Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 in 10 innings at Fort Myers. Kansas City and Washington were idle.

Oscar Winds Up Career With 14 College Marks

NEW YORK (AP)—Cincinnati's fabulous All America, Oscar Robertson, leading a trend toward more offense in basketball, closed out his college career with 14 individual records including the college's all-time major scorer.

National Collegiate Athletic Bureau's final statistics released today showed Robertson's Cincinnatians and their upstate buddies Ohio State dominated the trend to increased scoring in at least four categories.

Robertson led all scorers with 1,011 points and a 33.7 average while All America Jerry Lucas of Ohio State had the highest field goal percentage (.637). The national champion Buckeyes further showed the trend by beating defense leader California in the NCAA final, 75-55.

The Bucks also led the country in scoring with a 90.4 average the highest since 1956. They also scored 37.3 field goals per game, the highest ever in that department.

Cincinnati and Ohio State left the rest far behind in victory margins, with the Bearcats having a 22-point edge and the Bucks a 20.6 margin.

In addition to being the all-time scorer, the Big O also had the highest career average (33.8); scored the most field goals in a career (1,052); and attempted and made the most fouls (869) of 1,114). He also set four two-year marks, a single season record and four miscellaneous standards, including the first ever to lead the nation in scoring three consecutive years.

Lucas tied Purdue's Terry Dischinger for seventh in the scoring race with 26.3 points a game. Another Ohioan, Jimmy Darrow of Bowling Green, was third with a 29.4 average, compared to 31.5 for second-place Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure and 29.3 for fourth-place Jerry West of West Virginia.

LISBON — Seventy-six horses are entered in the colt stakes to be run Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, Aug. 24, 25 and 27, at the Columbiana County Fair, according to Galen Greenisen, speed secretary.

This is twice the number entered last August, Greenisen said, and includes 13 horses in the 3-year-old trot Aug. 24, 26 in the 2-year-old pace Aug. 25, and 20 in the 2-year-old trot and 17 in the 3-year-old pace Aug. 27.

The events will feature a purse of about $1,300 each, made available through the new Ohio State Fair Funds Law.

First day of the fair, Tuesday, Aug. 23, will be Youth Day with the young people staging the entire program, including the grandstand performance at night.

Tebbetts Looks For Five-Team Battle In NL

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts envisions the 1960 National League baseball race as a 5-team fight, much like it was in 1956 when he came close to piloting a determined but understaffed Cincinnati team to the pennant.

He sees the Milwaukee Braves winning the title this year, however, instead of the Dodgers. It was the Dodgers, then at Brooklyn who took the title in 1956. The Braves finished one game behind in second place and the Reds in third place.

Tebbetts, executive vice president of the Milwaukee club, said Wednesday on his return from a long scouting trip that "I think we've got the background and experience to win."

Birdie said he thought the San Francisco Giants would be the toughest team to beat. Also in contention with the Braves, he said, probably will be the Los Angeles Dodgers, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds.

Reports Say Tigers' Manager On Way Out

Hawks Attempt To Even Series Tonight In NBA

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks again have their backs to the wall but—maybe because they've been there before — they feel certain that they can square pro basketball's world series with the Boston Celtics tonight.

"We didn't panic when Minneapolis had us down 3-2," said Coach Easy Ed Macauley. "We'll have to reach down and come up with another big one. We've done it before."

The Celtics by winning tonight can wrap up their third National Basketball Assn. title in the past four seasons. A St. Louis victory would force a deciding seventh game in Boston Saturday afternoon.

Larry Foust, the Hawks veteran 6-foot-9, 250-pound reserve center, suffered a break in one of the small bones of his left hand in Boston's 127-102 victory Tuesday night in Boston. Foust is wearing a cast and—if he is able to play at all—will be badly handicapped in shooting and rebounding. Rookie Bob Ferry will get a chance in his place.

With Boston's great backcourt wizard, Bob Cousy, back in top form, Foust injured and Hawk star Bob Pettit still bothered by a back injury, the outlook isn't bright for St. Louis.

Larsen Consigned To KC's Bullpen

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Don Larsen, the only pitcher who ever hurled a perfect, no-hit World Series game, has been consigned to the Kansas City Athletics' bullpen.

The big right-hander, who defeated Brooklyn in the 1956 Series by retiring 27 straight batters, came to the lowly Athletics in a winter deal that sent outfielder Roger Maris to the New York Yankees.

Wednesday, Manager Bob Elliott named six pitchers to his starting staff. Larsen was consigned to the middle-inning relief corps.

Injuries Mount In Yanks' Camp

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A suddenly ballooned injury list may take some of the gloss off the New York Yankees recent perked-up performances.

Moose Skowron, Kent Hadley and Frank Leja all have pulled leg muscles and will be out for two or three days.

Neck Ailment Bothers Ted

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Ted Williams still is looking for the answer to the question everyone is asking—can a throbbing neck and aging bones carry him through another season as a Boston Red Sox regular

"The neck is neither better nor worse," the 41-year-old slugger said today. "I still don't know what I'm going to do this year."

If hard work will prolong the major league career of the colorful Williams who will mark his 21st season next month, Ted could hang up his "business as usual" shingle in left field right now.

Always as sternly devoted to conditioning as he is to base hits, Williams never has toiled longer or more willingly than this spring.

But the neck ailment, which dragged Williams from the lofty heights of American League batting championships in 1957 (.388) and '58 (.328) to .254 last season, persists. Ted currently is hitting .259 after appearing in 14 of Boston's 21 exhibition games. And his age is plaguing him in the form of the worst weight problem he's ever faced.

AAU Bouts Open In Toledo Ring

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—With trips to Rome for the champions as extra incentive, 136 amateur boxers commence punching tonight in the national AAU finals.

Elimination bouts this evening and Friday night lead up to the title matches Saturday night that will determine champions in 10 weight divisions.

The winners qualify to compete at San Francisco for places on the U.S. Olympic team. But the jaunt to Rome is assured anyway for the AAU champs, who will take on an Italian team there in June.

Four defending champions — Cassius Clay of Louisville, Ky., light heavyweight; Wilburt McClure, Toledo, Middleweight; Quincy Daniels, Seattle, Wash., 132 pounds, and Jim Blythe, Hartford, Conn., heavyweight—will be in action in the Toledo University Fieldhouse. So will 1957 and 1958 titlist Vince Shomo, current Pan-American champion, who goes after the 139-pound crown.

Oscar Winds Up Career With 14 College Marks

NEW YORK (AP)—Cincinnati's fabulous All America, Oscar Robertson, leading a trend toward more offense in basketball, closed out his college career with 14 individual records including the college's all-time major scorer.

National Collegiate Athletic Bureau's final statistics released today showed Robertson's Cincinnatians and their upstate buddies Ohio State dominated the trend to increased scoring in at least four categories.

Robertson led all scorers with 1,011 points and a 33.7 average while All America Jerry Lucas of Ohio State had the highest field goal percentage (.637). The national champion Buckeyes further showed the trend by beating defense leader California in the NCAA final, 75-55.

The Bucks also led the country in scoring with a 90.4 average the highest since 1956. They also scored 37.3 field goals per game, the highest ever in that department.

Cincinnati and Ohio State left the rest far behind in victory margins, with the Bearcats having a 22-point edge and the Bucks a 20.6 margin.

In addition to being the all-time scorer, the Big O also had the highest career average (33.8); scored the most field goals in a career (1,052); and attempted and made the most fouls (869) of 1,114). He also set four two-year marks, a single season record and four miscellaneous standards, including the first ever to lead the nation in scoring three consecutive years.

Lucas tied Purdue's Terry Dischinger for seventh in the scoring race with 26.3 points a game. Another Ohioan, Jimmy Darrow of Bowling Green, was third with a 29.4 average, compared to 31.5 for second-place Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure and 29.3 for fourth-place Jerry West of West Virginia.

Race Entries Up For Fair

LISBON — Seventy-six horses are entered in the colt stakes to be run Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, Aug. 24, 25 and 27, at the Columbiana County Fair, according to Galen Greenisen, speed secretary.

This is twice the number entered last August, Greenisen said, and includes 13 horses in the 3-year-old trot Aug. 24, 26 in the 2-year-old pace Aug. 25, and 20 in the 2-year-old trot and 17 in the 3-year-old pace Aug. 27.

The events will feature a purse of about $1,300 each, made available through the new Ohio State Fair Funds Law.

First day of the fair, Tuesday, Aug. 23, will be Youth Day with the young people staging the entire program, including the grandstand performance at night.

Plans for the improved Junior Fair were reviewed for the Fair Board by County Agents Don Myers, Miss Julia Shank and Joe Burger and George Dickson, vocational agriculture teacher at United Local High School.

The Fair Board announced rental of the grounds to the Northeast Ohio Horse Pullers Association for Memorial Day, May 30.

The Columbiana County Board of Education was granted use of the grounds on Friday, May 20, for a Grades 7-8 track meet. Monday, May 23, is the rain-date.

Tebbetts Looks For Five-Team Battle In NL

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts envisions the 1960 National League baseball race as a 5-team fight, much like it was in 1956 when he came close to piloting a determiped but understaffed Cincinnati team to the pennant.

He sees the Milwaukee Braves winning the title this year, however, instead of the Dodgers. It was the Dodgers, then at Brooklyn who took the title in 1956. The Braves finished one game behind in second place and the Reds in third piece.

Tebbetts, executive vice president of the Milwaukee club, said Wednesday on his return from a long scouting trip that "I think we've got the background and experience to win."

Birdie said he thought the San Francisco Giants would be the toughest team to beat. Also in contention with the Braves, he said, probably will be the Los Angeles Dodgers, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds.

Reports Say Tigers' Manager On Way Out

DETROIT (AP) — "I have no complaints and there have been no disagreements."

That's the way Jimmie Dykes responded to published reports he might be headed out as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

President Bill Dewitt said "I've always had a very high regard for Jimmie Dykes as a manager. He has done a good job wherever he has been. He's a solid guy."

Hawks Attempt To Even Series Tonight In NBA

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks again have their backs to the wall but—maybe because they've been there before — they feel certain that they can square pro basketball's world series with the Boston Celtics tonight.

"We didn't panic when Minneapolis had us down 3-2," said Coach Easy Ed Macauley. "We'll have to reach down and come up with another big one. We've done it before."

The Celtics by winning tonight can wrap up their third National Basketball Assn. title in the past four seasons. A St. Louis victory would force a deciding seventh game in Boston Saturday afternoon.

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—It's entirely possible that rookie Dave Stenhouse of the Cincinnati Reds may have "won" himself a ticket back to the minor leagues Wednesday with just one pitch.

The 27-year-old Stenhouse hasn't figured too prominently in Reds' plans recently and Stan Lopata hit the rookie's first—and only—pitch of the game over the wall for a home run.

The wallop gave the Milwaukee Braves a 3-2 victory over the Reds at Jacksonville, Fla., in 12 innings.

Stenhouse was considered a brilliant prospect when the Chicago Cubs signed him in 1955 but a sore arm threatened to ruin his career almost at the start.

Since early in the 1956 season, however, he has done well in the minors and last year at Seattle he had a 2.84 earned run average while posting a 12-13 record.

Jim Brosnan didn't hurt his chances of being the opening game pitcher despite the fact he gave up two of the Milwaukee runs. He allowed only four hits in six innings but one of them was a home run by Frank Torre.

Bill Henry worked two hitless innings and struck out four. Lawrence gave up only a harmless single in three innings.

The Reds didn't do much hitting of their own, however, offf Carlton Willey and Bob Rush. The big guns of the Cincinnati batting order—Vada Pinson, Gus Bell, Frank Robinson and Tony Gonzalez—came up with only one hit in 19 times at bat. It was a single by Pinson.

Thus the Reds were a bit lucky even to carry the game into extra innings. They were behind, 2-1, going into the ninth when a wild pitch by Willey allowed Elio Chacon to go from second to third from where he scored on Lee Walls' foul fly. Chacon had doubled.

Former South Carolina Football Coach Dies

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) —Rex Enright, who coached University of South Carolina football teams for nearly two decades, died late Wednesday.

The death of the 59-year-old Enright, who continued as athletic director after giving up the coaching reins, was attributed to peptic stomach ulcers and rheumatic heart lesions. He had been battling the ailments for nearly two years.

He went to the hospital last Thursday and became critically ill Monday.

Enright coached at South Carolina from 1938 to 1955 with the 1943-1945 period out for military service. In the 15 year span, his teams won 64, lost 69 and tied 7.

Yanks High On Young Pitching Prospect

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Even before southpaw Bill Short had reported for spring training, he was mentioned by Manager Casey Stengel as "the pitcher most highly recommended by our officials."

Short, 22, and only 5-foot-9, had a 17-6 record at Richmond last season. He's from Newburgh, N.Y.

"He has fabulous control," says Richmond manager Steve Souchock. "He has mastered the slider, curve and change of pace. He can throw it for a strike in any situation. That's what made him an effective pitcher."

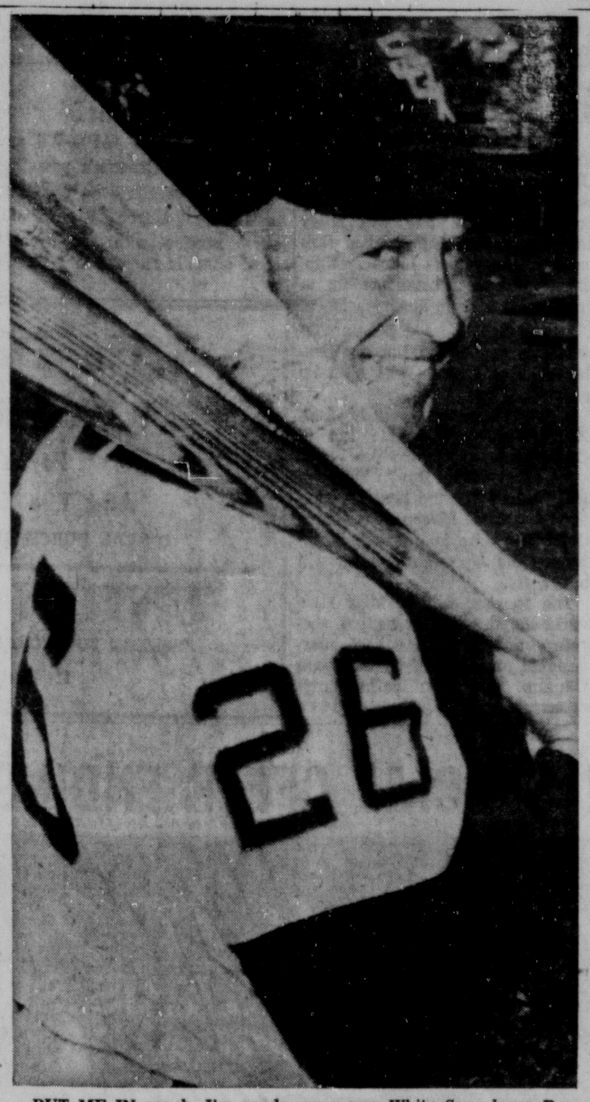

OSU Fullback Suffers Pulled Leg Muscle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Roger Detrick, starting fullback in the final games last season, suffered a pulled leg muscle at Wednesday's Ohio State spring football workouts. Seriousness of the hurt was not determined.

This was the second of 18 sessions planned. The Buckeyes drill on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

Wrong Sport Hurts

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Jerry Hill, University of Wyoming's All-Skyline conference halfback, hasn't been injured in two years of college football. But he received a broken foot in an intramural basketball game.

PUT ME IN coach, I'm ready, says new White Sox player Roy Sievers shortly after he arrived at Sarasota, Fla., Wednesday and donned the new uniform. Sievers was acquired in a trade Monday for Battey, Don Mincher and $150,000. (UPI Telephoto)

Kerwin, Fullmer Battle To Draw

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gale Kerwin's ability and Jay Fullmer's fitful aggressiveness got the two welterweights a draw in a 10-rounder at a beach front hotel ballroom Wednesday night.

Kerwin, 142½, from Ottawa, Canada, and Valley Stream, N.Y., and Fullmer, 139, of West Jordan, Utah, did little mixing before the seventh round. Their most hectic action began halfway through round 10. There were no knockdowns in the nationally televised fight.

Referee Rocky Marciano gave each 98 points on the 10-point system. Judge Davie Feld favored Kerwin 98-95 and Judge Barry Pearlman gave Fullmer a 97-95 edge.

Brandt Will Be 21st In ABC Hall Of Fame

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Allie Brandt, 57, a tiny powerhouse from Lockport, N. Y., will become the 21st member of the American Bowling Congress Hall of Fame tonight.

Although he has a formidable record, Brandt's most outstanding feat was the record league series of 886 which he rolled 26 years ago. Shooting 33 out of a possible 36 strikes, he blasted games of 297, 289 and 300.

The only standings change in Wednesday's action came as Ed Wlodarski and John Sykora of Toledo combined for 1,280 and eighth place in the doubles.

Rain And Snow Fail To Stop Ascot Opening

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Rain and snow collaborated to produce a slow track at Ascot Park's reopening day Wednesday.

However, 5,425 fans turned out for the belated event and bet a total of $308,905.

Bobby Locke of South Africa has won the British Open golf title four times.

Jerry West Gets 25 To Lead Tourney Win

ST. ALBANS, W. Va. (AP)—A team composed of Dayton and Xavier University cagers edged another composed of former Marshall College and Ohio University players Wednesday night 91-85 in the St. Albans Sportsman's Basketball Tournament.

Canadiens Solid Choice For Title

MONTREAL (AP) — The defending Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens remain a solid 12-5 favorite to win their fifth straight cup as they open the best-of-seven final series with the Toronto Maple Leafs at the Forum tonight.

However, Toronto Coach Punch Imlach would not concede defeat.

"I think we can gain at least a split here and then, with the next two games in Toronto, we should be in excellent position to move out in front and stay there," Imlach said.

The second game will be here Saturday night with the third and fourth next week in Toronto.

Purchases Speedway

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — George Flanagan Jr., president of Air City Distributing Co. of Dayton, has bought the Dayton Speedway for $85.000. The purchase was made at a receivership auction in Montgomery County Common Pleas Court. Flanagan said races will continue at the track this summer.

Lopata Belts Rookie's Only Pitch For HR

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—It's entirely possible that rookie Dave Stenhouse of the Cincinnati Reds may have "won" himself a ticket back to the minor leagues Wednesday with just one pitch.

The 27-year-old Stenhouse hasn't figured too prominently in Reds' plans recently and Stan Lopata hit the rookie's first—and only—pitch of the game over the wall for a home run.

The wallop gave the Milwaukee Braves a 3-2 victory over the Reds at Jacksonville, Fla., in 12 innings.

Stenhouse was considered a brilliant prospect when the Chicago Cubs signed him in 1955 but a sore arm threatened to ruin his career almost at the start.

Since early in the 1956 season, however, he has done well in the minors and last year at Seattle he had a 2.84 earned run average while posting a 12-13 record.

Jim Brosnan didn't hurt his chances of being the opening game pitcher despite the fact he gave up two of the Milwaukee runs. He allowed only four hits in six innings but one of them was a home run by Frank Torre.

Bill Henry worked two hitless innings and struck out four. Lawrence gave up only a harmless single in three innings.

The Reds didn't do much hitting of their own, however, offf Carlton Willey and Bob Rush. The big guns of the Cincinnati batting order—Vada Pinson, Gus Bell, Frank Robinson and Tony Gonzalez—came up with only one hit in 19 times at bat. It was a single by Pinson.

Thus the Reds were a bit lucky even to carry the game into extra innings. They were behind, 2-1, going into the ninth when a wild pitch by Willey allowed Elio Chacon to go from second to third from where he scored on Lee Walls' foul fly. Chacon had doubled.

Former South Carolina Football Coach Dies

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) —Rex Enright, who coached University of South Carolina football teams for nearly two decades, died late Wednesday.

The death of the 59-year-old Enright, who continued as athletic director after giving up the coaching reins, was attributed to peptic stomach ulcers and rheumatic heart lesions. He had been battling the ailments for nearly two years.

He went to the hospital last Thursday and became critically ill Monday.

Enright coached at South Carolina from 1938 to 1955 with the 1943-1945 period out for military service. In the 15 year span, his teams won 64, lost 69 and tied 7.

Yanks High On Young Pitching Prospect

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Even before southpaw Bill Short had reported for spring training, he was mentioned by Manager Casey Stengel as "the pitcher most highly recommended by our officials."

Short, 22, and only 5-foot-9, had a 17-6 record at Richmond last season. He's from Newburgh, N.Y.

"He has fabulous control," says Richmond manager Steve Souchock. "He has mastered the slider, curve and change of pace. He can throw it for a strike in any situation. That's what made him an effective pitcher."

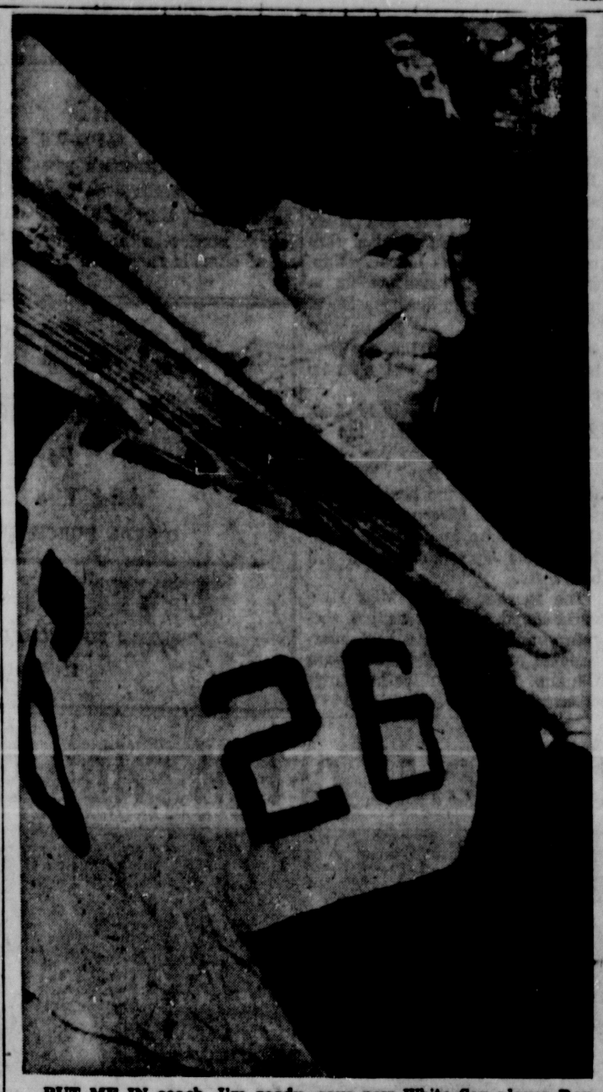

OSU Fullback Suffers Pulled Leg Muscle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Roger Detrick, starting fullback in the final games last season, suffered a pulled leg muscle at Wednesday's Ohio State spring football workouts. Seriousness of the hurt was not determined.

This was the second of 18 sessions planned. The Buckeyes drill on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

Wrong Sport Hurts

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Jerry Hill, University of Wyoming's All-Skyline conference halfback, hasn't been injured in two years of college football. But he received a broken foot in an intramural basketball game.

PUT ME IN coach, I'm ready, says new White Sox player Roy Sievers shortly after he arrived at Sarasota, Fla., Wednesday and donned the new uniform. Sievers was acquired in a trade Monday for Battey, Don Mincher and $150,000. (UPI Telephoto)

Kerwin, Fullmer Battle To Draw

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gale Kerwin's ability and Jay Fullmer's fitful aggressiveness got the two welterweights a draw in a 10-rounder at a beach front hotel ballroom Wednesday night.

Kerwin, 142½, from Ottawa, Canada, and Valley Stream, N.Y., and Fullmer, 139, of West Jordan, Utah, did little mixing before the seventh round. Their most hectic action began halfway through round 10. There were no knockdowns in the nationally televised fight.

Referee Rocky Marciano gave each 98 points on the 10-point system. Judge Davie Feld favored Kerwin 98-95 and Judge Barry Pearlman gave Fullmer a 97-95 edge.

Brandt Will Be 21st In ABC Hall Of Fame

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Allie Brandt, 57, a tiny powerhouse from Lockport, N. Y., will become the 21st member of the American Bowling Congress Hall of Fame tonight.

Although he has a formidable record, Brandt's most outstanding feat was the record league series of 886 which he rolled 26 years ago. Shooting 33 out of a possible 36 strikes, he blasted games of 297, 289 and 300.

The only standings change in Wednesday's action came as Ed Wlodarski and John Sykora of Toledo combined for 1,280 and eighth place in the doubles.

Rain And Snow Fail To Stop Ascot Opening

However, 5,425 fans turned out for the belated event and bet a total of $308,905.

R. T. Speidel Is Re-Elected Health League's President

Elected or returned to the Board of Directors were William Bamer, Paul H. Blair, Dr. Melbourne Burnett, Mrs. J. Fraser Jackson and Fred A. Layne of East Liverpool; Fred A. Huston and Mrs. Jennie Calhoun of Wellsville; E. S. Kerr of Salem, D. W. Bailey of Columbiana, Dr. Paul H. Beaver of Leetonia, Mrs. Clark Ulbrich of East Palestine, Atty. Elliott and Mrs. J. Fred Jose of Damascus.

A report of the revised constitution was presented and approved but action on the new by-laws was deferred until the board meeting April 20 in the health offices.

Of this amount, $25,460.80 was earmarked for local use and 20 per cent, or $6,365.20, goes to the state and national association, fourteen per cent remains in Ohio and of the 6 per cent allotted to the National Tuberculosis Association, one per cent is earmarked for service to the general public. Over 15,000 persons purchased the seals.

The financial report for 1959 showed a fund of $29,399.97, which includes a $1,728.86 refund from the state association, $678.57 interest and investments and $8.65 donations and bequests.

Disbursements included health education, $10,870.60; case findings $8,545.84; administration, $3.600; statistical and fact finding, $110; seal sale direct expense, $3,250.72, and indirect expense, $2,191.88, for a total of $28,569.04. A balance of $830.93 was reported. A balance of $2.323.09 was reported last year.

Dr. Morgan reported on the Arden House Conference last winter in Harriman, N. J., held by the National Tuberculosis Association and the U. S. Public Health Service. He said "the time to eradicate tuberculosis in the country is at hand and we will be able to do this by chemotherapy — treatment with drugs — but action must be immediate or TB bacilli will develop resistance to the new drugs."

He said that in the very near future he expects that children can be immunized for TB, similar to immunizations now being given for other diseases.

SCIENCE WINNER. Miss Susan Beede of Elkton, senior at Beaver Local High School, writes the ingredients of a special nutrient loaf which won a prize at the Buhl Planetarium Science Fair. Her entry was a special food loaf she planned and baked, and which provides all the daily nutrition required by an individual.

Melenie Engle, master, presided for business and announced that a surprise will be presented to juveniles after all dues are paid.

Plans were discussed for summer camp in June at Raccoon Park.

Rep. Hays Files Protest Over New Oil Imports

Market reports show a surplus of oil now, he continued, and the only thing an increase in the quota would do would be to pile up profits for foreign-based oil companies at the expense of domestic producers of oil and other fuels.

The consumer utlimately would pay more, Hays said.

Patrol Group Has Inspection

Inspection was conducted by 1st Sgt. Robert Jones and Sgt. Joe H. Sedlock of the patrol barracks at Warren and Auxiliary Maj. N. W. St. John of Painesville and Maj J. W. Flannery of Warren.

Maj. St. John reported the county auxiliary ranked third in the number of manhours on duty and that District 4, which includes the county, led the state in manhours with 11.7 per member.

Remarks were made by Cpl. John Miller in charge of the Lisbon post, Ptl. Charles Rice, second in charge, and Ptl. Walter Jones, auxiliary instructor.

Capt. James Martin, auxiliary commander, was in charge of business. It was announced the annual auxiliary banquet will be held April 23 for members and wives at the Lisbon American Legion hall.

Cpl. Miller reported a new auxiliary school will begin at Lisbon next fall. The District 4 roundup will be held in October at Wickliffe.

The next meeting will be May 4 at Lisbon.

R. T. Speidel Is Re-Elected Health League's President

Over 35 attended and the annual reports and a review of last year's activities featured the session.

Dr. William M. Morgan of Mt. Union college was guest speaker.

Elected or returned to the Board of Directors were William Bamer, Paul H. Blair, Dr. Melbourne Burnett, Mrs. J. Fraser Jackson and Fred A. Layne of East Liverpool; Fred A. Huston and Mrs. Jennie Calhoun of Wellsville; E. S. Kerr of Salem, D. W. Bailey of Columbiana, Dr. Paul H. Beaver of Leetonia, Mrs. Clark Ulbrich of East Palestine, Atty. Elliott and Mrs. J. Fred Jose of Damascus.

A report of the revised constitution was presented and approved but action on the new by-laws was deferred until the board meeting April 20 in the health offices.

Miss Lillian Schroeder, executive secretary, reported county residents contributed $31,236 to the Christmas Seal drive, short of the $33,000 goal.

Of this amount, $25,460.80 was earmarked for local use and 20 per cent, or $6,365.20, goes to the state and national association, fourteen per cent remains in Ohio and of the 6 per cent allotted to the National Tuberculosis Association, one per cent is earmarked for service to the general public. Over 15,000 persons purchased the seals.

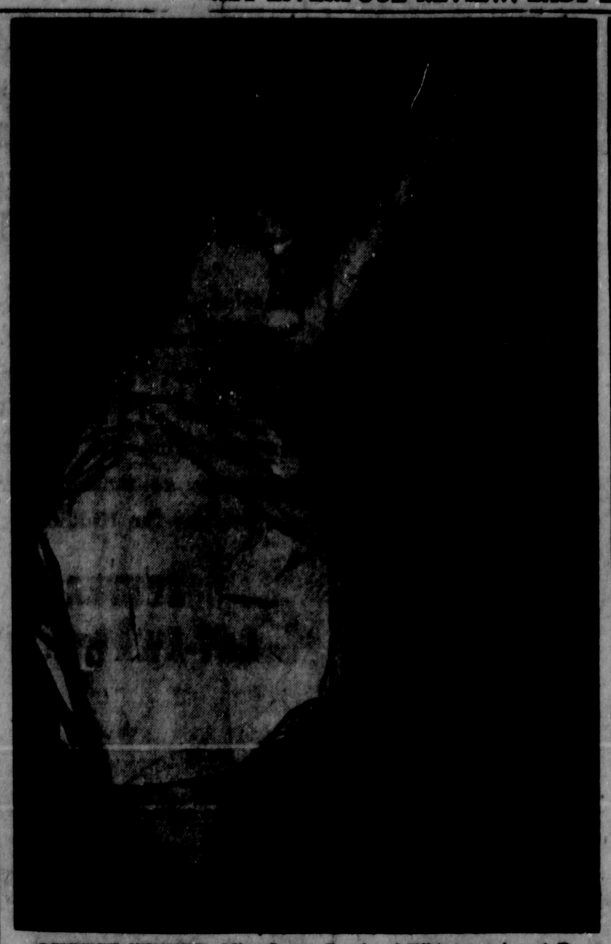

The yearly X-ray report showed 11,054 examinations were provided by Christmas Seal funds, taken by the mobile unit throughout the county.

The financial report for 1959 showed a fund of $29,399.97, which includes a $1,726.86 refund from the state association, $678.57 interest and investments and $8.65 donations and bequests.

Disbursements included health education, $10,570.60; case findings $8,545.84; administration, $3,600; statistical and fact finding, $110; seal sale direct expense, $3,250.72, and indirect expense, $2,191.88, for a total of $28,569.04. A balance of $830.93 was reported. A balance of $2,323.09 was reported last year.

Dr. Morgan reported on the Arden House Conference last winter in Harriman, N. J., held by the National Tuberculosis Association and the U. S. Public Health Service. He said "the time to eradicate tuberculosis in the country is at hand and we will be able to do this by chemotherapy — treatment with drugs — but action must be immediate or TB bacilli will develop resistance to the new drugs."

He said that in the very near future he expects that children can be immunized for TB, similar to immunizations now being given for other diseases.

SCIENCE WINNER. Miss Susan Beede of Elkton, senior at Beaver Local High School, writes the ingredients of a special nutrient loaf which won a prize at the Buhl Planetarium Science Fair. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dike Beede, she received the Joseph Horne award at the Pittsburgh fair, and will receive the prize Friday night at the Carnegie Library of Northside, Pittsburgh. Her entry was a special food loaf she planned and baked, and which provides all the daily nutrition required by an individual.

Fairview Grange Drive To Continue

Charles Richards, master, announced at the meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night in the Grange Hall in Ohio Township that the membership drive will continue this month.

Permission to use the Grange ballfield was granted Richard Rice, manager of the Ohio Township Hot Stove League.

A banquet will be held at Big Knob Grange April 23 for all Beaver County Grange members holding the seventh degree of the National Grange.

Mrs. Lester Herron was in charge of the refreshment committee.

Melenie Engle, master, presided for bdsiness and announced that a surprise will be presented to juveniles after all dues are paid.

Plans were discussed for summer camp in June at Raccoon Park.

Rep. Hays Files Protest Over New Oil Imports

The present quota, Hays pointed out, already permits the import of 23 per cent more residual oil than in 1957, the original base year.

Market reports show a surplus of oil now, he continued, and the only thing an increase in the quota would do would be to pile up profits for foreign-based oil companies at the expense of domestic producers of oil and other fuels.

The consumer utlimately would pay more, Hays said.

Patrol Group Has Inspection

Inspection was conducted by 1st Sgt. Robert Jones and Sgt. Joe H. Sedlock of the patrol barracks at Warren and Auxiliary Maj. N. W. St. John of Painesville and Maj J. W. Flannery of Warren.

Maj. St. John reported the county auxiliary ranked third in the number of manhours on duty and that District 4, which includes the county, led the state in manhours with 11.7 per member.

Remarks were made by Cpl. John Miller in charge of the Lisbon post, Ptl. Charles Rice, second in charge, and Ptl. Walter Jones, auxiliary instructor.

Capt. James Martin, auxiliary commander, was in charge of business. It was announced the annual auxiliary banquet will be held April 23 for members and wives at the Lisbon American Legion hall.

Cpl. Miller reported a new auxiliary school will begin at Lisbon next fall. The District 4 roundup will be held in October at Wickliffe.

The next meeting will be May 4 at Lisbon.

Hearing To Be Friday For New York Youth

LISBON — Charles Cipolla, 18, of Brooklyn will be given a hearing Friday at 10 a. m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for probation violation.

Cipolla and two 16-year-old companions, Raymond Michalski and Edward J. Ruffler, both of New York, were arrested for the burglary of Gaydo's Service Station south of Rogers on Route 7 April 4, 1959.

Michalski was sentenced to 1-5 years at the Mansfield Reformatory and Ruffler received a suspended sentence at the County Jail. Cipolla, a minor at the time, was placed on probation with New York authorities but was recently picked up as a user of narcotics. He waived extradition and was returned to this county as a probation violator.

Hello, Anybody Out There?

Experts Sure Life Exists On Hundreds Of Planets

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

GREEN BANK, W. Va. (AP)—Once upon a time, man believed he lived in the very center of the universe, supremely alone.

But today's astronomers are pretty confident intelligent life and civilizations thrive on hundreds or millions of planets.

And somebody out there, they think, could be astonishingly far advanced by having lived and invented for hundreds, thousands or even a billion years longer than man has on earth.

Special equipment for this first vigil has cost only about $10,000 in taxpayers' funds, through the National Science Foundation which supports the observatory.

There are compelling reasons for hoping for success ultimately if not immediately, explains Dr. Frank D. Drake, astronomer directing Project Ozma.

Our sun is one of perhaps 200 billion suns or stars making up a great galaxy, the Milky Way. The Milky Way is only one of billions of galaxies, some with more and some with fewer stars.

Many astronomers now think that somewhere between one and fifty per cent of all stars have planets wheeling around them.

To support life, a planet must be neither too close nor too far from its star. Earth is fortunate this way, and life developed here.

But possibly millions of stars have favorable-located planets, and have shone long enough at constant intensity to develop intelligent life. Many of these could be in the Milky Way, potentially close enough for radio contact despite the vast reaches of space between almost all stars.

There's little hope of ever hearing from planets in other galaxies, for the galaxy closest to us is 1½ million light years away. A message would take 1½ million years to reach us, our reply another 1½ million years to speed back.

But there is reasonable hope of communicating with planets in the Milky Way, itself so vast it takes light or radio waves 100,000 years to cross its expanse. But many stars are relatively nearby.

This all involves a theory that stars are continually being born and continually dying over cosmic time, Dr. Drake explains.

By this theory, our Milky Way began some 25 billion years ago as a vast cloud of hydrogen gas. Many whorls of gas condensed into the first, and oldest, stars.

But in time, many of these first stars blew up, after first having cooked up and produced heavy elements, which then were spewed out into the hydrogen cloud. This enriched gas could form new stars which could have planets.

There is evidence our sun was born about 5 billion years ago after the explosion of a first father or progenitor star.

Gradually, processes on the cooling earth built up complex organic chemicals. Then about two billion years ago the first simple life appeared, evolving until modern man appeared on the scene some 50,000 years ago or more. Now we think we're fairly smart.

But planets around other stable suns could have formed much earlier, even a billion years or more earlier. If evolution occurred on them as on earth, their life is far smarter scientifically. To them we might resemble cavemen, says Dr. Drake.

Another joint meeting will be held in the fall. The next meeting of the host group will be held May 3.

But there is reasonable hope of communicating with planets in the Milky Way, itself so vast it takes light or radio waves 100,000 years to cross its expanse. But many stars are relatively nearby.

Many stars and planets could be older than we, and possess highly intelligent life.

This all involves a theory that stars are continually being born and continually dying over cosmic time, Dr. Drake explains.

By this theory, our Milky Way began some 25 billion years ago as a vast cloud of hydrogen gas. Many whorls of gas condensed into the first, and oldest, stars.

Such stars aren't thought to have planets, because they contained no heavy elements like iron and uranium with which to make planets.

But in time, many of these first stars blew up, after first having cooked up and produced heavy elements, which then were spewed out into the hydrogen cloud. This enriched gas could form new stars which could have planets.

There is evidence our sun was born about 5 billion years ago after the explosion of a first father or progenitor star.

Gradually, processes on the cooling earth built up complex organic chemicals. Then about two billion years ago the first simple life appeared, evolving until modern man appeared on the scene some 50,000 years ago or more. Now we think we're fairly smart.

But planets around other stable suns could have formed much earlier, even a billion years or more earlier. If evolution occurred on them as on earth, their life is far smarter scientifically. To them we might resemble cavemen, says Dr. Drake.

More Girls Needed In Science Fields

When one attends scientific meetings at a national convention of the American Association for the Advacement of Science, one observes that most of the papers are read by men and most of the audience are men, especially in sections on the physical sciences and mathematics. In the academic year 1957-58, women received 145,126 academic degrees. Of these only 2,006 were in the physical sciences. In 1958, fewer than 5 percent of women college graduates had majored in science, compared with 10 percent for men. It has been estimated that in 1958 there were 170,000 physical scientists in the United States. Only about 14,000 were women, of whom almost 90 percent were chemists.

By Garry Meyer.

HOWEVER, THERE are many allied fields in which women are in the majority — nursing, dietetics, medical technology and therapy.

So states Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, Assistant to the Secretary of Labor, and author of "Careers for Women", published by the U. S. Bureau of Labor (to be had from the Government Printing Office, Washington, 25, D. C., for 35 cents).

Mrs. Leopold frankly states that the booklet (which deals with physics, chemistry, astronomy and geology) aims to persuade more girls to get the kind of education in high school and college that will prepare them for those fields.

A good high school program, the booklet says, includes two science courses, at least three years of mathematics, adequate courses in English, foreign languages, social studies and, if possible, a course in technical drawing.

"IN ONE OF our large Eastern cities the 'weatherman' is a woman . . . A woman astronomer was recently made chairman of the astronomy department of a leading university". Yet she admits that science is still a man's world, while scientific talent isn't.

Some observers have pointed out that the reason so few girls take mathematics and physical sciences in high school and college is the myth and folklore that they are not for girls. Even some guidance counselors steer scientifically talented girls away from science and mathematics.

Be it added that Mrs. Snow Talbot, staff member of the Survey of Dentistry in the United States, writing in the Journal of the American Dental Association, makes a strong plea to bright girls to enter the dental profession.

Among her reasons are the declining dentist-population ratio, the need for more highly qualified applicants, and the shortage of dental practitioners interested in dentistry for children.

Historical Sketch Given For Child Study Club Event

Mrs. Reva Phillips Smith of Bethel Park, Pa., was speaker for the Guest Night observance of the Child Study Club Tuesday at the Country Club. Some 65 attended.

Appearing in costume, she used the topic "Renaissance" for her historical sketch of Pittsburgh. She also gave sidelights of "family history" in the city. Mrs. Paul Davis, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Reed Campbell, president, was presented with a farewell gift from the club. She will leave this week to reside in Allentown, Pa.

Refreshments were served by the social committee comprised of Mrs. H. F. Banfield, chairman, Mrs. Marvin Kinsey, Mrs. Herschel Rubin, Mrs. William Sturgeon and Mrs. Louis Tobin.

Stoneware pitchers and bowls holding miniature candles and flowers were used for the individual table settings. A green and yellow theme predominated in the buffet table appointments. An heirloom quilt, white stoneware jugs and bowls and antique hurricane lamps added a decorative note to the "dated setting."

The next meeting will be May 3 with Mrs. Davis of Fisher Ave. Mrs. Norman Birnbaum will present the program. Mrs. Sturgeon and Mrs. C. V. Campbell will be co-hostesses.

Mail Subsidies Cited For Agricultural Group

LISBON — Orvan Carter, Salineville mail carrier, told the agricultural problems committee of the Columbiana County Agricultural Council Tuesday night magazines received a mail subsidy of $38.8 million in 1956.

The meeting was called by Cecil Conkle of New Waterford, chairman, to discuss various problems concerning agriculture, including the frequent publication of but part of the facts concerning federal subsidies to agriculture and other groups in the economy.

"The subsidy to farmers is but 7 to 8 percent of the total annual federal subsidies, although we seldom hear of the other 92 per cent," L. E. Lora of Salem, member of the committee, said. "Furthermore, less than half of the total usually included as agricultural subsidies goes to farmers, directly and indirectly," he said.

The agricultural problems committee will meet again in late summer to plan its work for next fall, Conkle said.

Film On Bees Shown To Men's Brotherhood

A film about bees was screened by E. G. Jackson at a meeting of the Men's Brotherhood Wednesday night at the Chester First Christian Church. The film was provided by Phillip Garey.

Plans were made to visit absentee members and to supply flowers for the church Easter Sunday. Table tennis and shuffleboard were played. Albert Kell, president, was in charge.

The next meeting will be May 11.

Yes, In Every Loaf of New Wonder Enriched Bread

TRIPLE - TRIPLE - TRIPLE PROTEINS!

3 DIFFERENT PROTEINS BLENDED TOGETHER TO IMPROVE BIOLOGIC VALUE

PROTEIN FROM WHEAT
PROTEIN FROM YEAST

This wonderful new loaf of Wonder Bread is made for those thoughtful mothers to serve to their growing children to help sturdy, healthy growth because it supplies a blend of triple proteins which are needed daily.

But that's not all. Because New Wonder Bread with "Triple Proteins" has a better flavor.

Out Of This World—Plain Or Toasted

See for yourself why New Wonder Bread tastes better and toasts better.

©1960, CONTINENTAL BAKING COMPANY, Incorporated

TWO LOAVES FREE if you don't agree

If you don't agree that the New Wonder Bread is far better for flavor and toasting than any bread you have ever served, send us the wrapper with your name and address.

We will send you an order on your grocer for two loaves free. We are absolutely sure that no one ever tasted bread so good. This offer good until May 14, 1960.

Here at the Wonder Research Laboratories, the largest and most modern baking laboratories in the world, the formulation for New Wonder Enriched Bread was worked out by leading baking technologists. No other baker offers nutritional research and quality control on such an impressive and continuing scale, and no other baker offers so impressive a guarantee of consistency in the excellence of the product.

FOR TOAST SUPREME— GET NEW WONDER BREAD

You know that toast flavor depends on how well some of the starch in bread is "caramelized" by your toaster.

What you may not know is the flavor "kick" added milk sugar can give to toast flavor.

Beaver To Issue Absentee Ballots

Beaver Countians and other Pennsylvania civilians will be permitted to vote by absentee ballot in the April 26 primary for the first time, according to a new state law.

William B. Smith, director of the Bureau of Elections at Beaver, said that civilians who will be away on official business on Election Day may use the absentee ballots. Veterans, including those bedridden, have used them for several years.

Smith said applications for the ballots are being taken now and they must be filled out and returned not later than Tuesday April 19. He said the bureau will check to see if the applicant is registered and if signatures match.

Ballots must be returned with a postmark of no later than April 26, he said.

Other changes according to state law this year allow the voter to use check marks or "x's." If a voter starts with one he must end using the same mark. Also, ballpoint pens, indelible pencils and pens with blue and black ink may be used. Whichever is used must be used throughout. Other colors of ink or pencils, such as red or green, cannot be used.

Smith said that if a voter leaves his district within a 60-day period prior to the election, he may still return to the district and vote. Formerly such a voter lost his vote.

Yes, In Every Loaf of New Wonder Enriched Bread
TRIPLE - TRIPLE - TRIPLE PROTEINS!
3 DIFFERENT PROTEINS BLENDED TOGETHER TO IMPROVE BIOLOGIC VALUE
PROTEIN FROM WHEAT
PROTEIN FROM YEAST

As every thoughtful mother knows, the most important nutrient you can give your growing child is protein.

Because, without protein, there can be no new cells for growth, no new cells to replace worn-out ones.

This wonderful new loaf of Wonder Bread is made for those thoughtful mothers to serve to their growing children to help sturdy, healthy growth because it supplies a blend of triple proteins which are needed daily.

But that's not all. Because New Wonder Bread with "Triple Proteins" has a better flavor.

Out Of This World—Plain Or Toasted

And—to make the grayest morning golden bright—pop New Wonder Bread into your toaster.

See for yourself why New Wonder Bread tastes better and toasts better.

©1960, CONTINENTAL BAKING COMPANY, Incorporated

TWO LOAVES FREE if you don't agree

If you don't agree that the New Wonder Bread is far better for flavor and toasting than any bread you have ever served, send us the wrapper with your name and address.

We will send you an order on your grocer for two loaves free. We are absolutely sure that no one ever tasted bread so good. This offer good until May 14, 1960.

Limit 2 loaves per family.

FOR TOAST SUPREME— GET NEW WONDER BREAD

You know that toast flavor depends on how well some of the starch in bread is "caramelized" by your toaster.

What you may not know is the flavor "kick" added milk sugar can give to toast flavor.

Try New Wonder Bread and see the difference—you'll be glad you did.

Here at the Wonder Research Laboratories, the largest and most modern baking laboratories in the world, the formulation for New Wonder Enriched Bread was worked out by leading baking technologists. No other baker offers nutritional research and quality control on such an impressive and continuing scale, and no other baker offers so impressive a guarantee of consistency in the excellence of the product.

PTA At Garfield Ends Season With Signing Of State Charter

The final meeting of the school term was held by the Garfield Parent - Teacher Association, Tuesday night when a charter was signed, officially affiliating with the Ohio PTA Congress. The charter was signed by the members.

The meeting was opened by Charles Heasley, president, who appointed chairmen and co-chairmen of committees.

They include — ways and means, Mrs. Garnet Holtzman and Mrs. June Tice; membership, Mrs. Ruth Woodward and Mrs. Harriet Slagel; attendance, Mrs. Clara Cooper and Mrs. Jean Farnsworth, and entertainment, Mrs. Joyce Renner. Kenneth Carr was elected delegate to attend the City PTA Federation.

Paul Blair, assistant superintendent of schools, spoke on the school levy to be submitted in the May primary. Sixth grade pupils entertained with a song they composed which referred to the levy.

Prayer was given by the Rev. James Gardner, pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

Pre-Natal Class Ends

LISBON — Twenty-two women attended the last in a series of six classes Wednesday in a pre-natal clinic conducted by the County Health Department. William James Taylor, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor of Winona, was the live model for instructions on bathing a baby.

Davis Appointed As Regular Police Chief At Chester

Acting Police Chief Harold Davis of Chester was named regular chief by a unanimous vote of Council following the recommendation of Mayor Burton Ward Wednesday night.

Mayor Ward last night said he will proclaim May 4 as "Doc Lyons Day." A stag dinner for the retired officer is planned then at the American Legion home.

Council voted to postpone its meeting May 4 to May 5 in order to attend the dinner.

Applications for the patrolman post — formerly held by Davis— will be received at the City Hall until Monday night at 7:30 when Council may act on naming a regular officer.

Roy Cashdollar, clerk-treasurer, pointed out last night that employment of special officers to work nights because of the lack of a regular officer is costing the city extra money.

Heavy Reading Causes Courthouse Floor Sag

LISBON — Courthouse employes are attempting to redistribute heavy tomes in the law library to halt serious sagging of floors in the third-story area.

It is estimated the some 10,000 volumes in the library weigh 15 tons, and plans call for placing the stacks and shelves over beams instead of on floor sites where there is no support.

Commissioners considered moving the library to the basement, but reported some alterations would have to be made to offices before this could be done.

Legion At Newell Plans Dinner For State Commander

Newell American Legion Post 114 Wednesday night made final plans for an anniversary banquet Friday night at the post home at which past commanders will be honored and Bonn Brown of Charleston, state commander, will be speaker.

The dinner will be served by the auxiliary at 7, Paul Mosher, commander, said.

John Merriman of Chester Post 121 spoke on the King-and-Queen-for-a-Day event slated for youngsters at Charleston. Kenneth Frye of New Cumberland R. D. 2 was accepted as a new member.

Use of the post home was granted to the post-prom committee for planning the Wells High School event May 20. The post acknowledged the gift of a pine tree from the auxiliary, which is to be planted at the front of the post home.

The next meeting will be April 20.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Can you tell me a quick and easy way to hand-wash bathroom rugs?

A. Here's a way that'll save your back: Drop the rugs into a bucket of soapy water and then swash them up and down with an ordinary plumber's force pump, such as is used for cleaning out drains. This works like the suction cups on a washing machine.

Q. How can I avoid the bitter taste of lemon and orange rinds when grating?

A. The white part of lemon and orange rinds contains the bitter portions, so when grating, use only the yellow part of the rinds.

Q. How can I give ferns a better color?

A. A teaspoonful of ammonia in one quart of water, poured over the house ferns about every two weeks will give them a nice, green color.

Titles Recorded For 503 Vehicles

LISBON — The Car Title Department of the clerk of courts office issued titles for 503 new vehicles in March, compared to 325 in February. New vehicle valuation was $1,559,352.

Clerk Carl L. Stacey reported a total of $7,185.13 was paid the county treasurer last month in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the title department.

The department received $6,351 last month with $4,844 going to the county and $1,506 to the state.

The clerk's office paid the state treasurer $6,691 from the collection of sales and use tax and $48,594 from the collection of the dealer's tax. The county received $558.45 for its one per cent poundage fee.

Issued last month were 4,121 auto titles, 120 duplicate titles, 922 memorandums, 45 duplicate memorandums, 1,589 notations of liens, 1,429 cancelations of liens and 1,347 acknowledgments.

Sixty-seven civil cases were filed in Common Pleas Court during the month, Stacey said.

PTA At Garfield Ends Season With Signing Of State Charter

The final meeting of the school term was held by the Garfield Parent - Teacher Association, Tuesday night when a charter was signed, officially affiliating with the Ohio PTA Congress. The charter was signed by the members.

The meeting was opened by Charles Heasley, president, who appointed chairmen and co-chairmen of committees.

They include — ways and means, Mrs. Garnet Holtzman and Mrs. June Tice; membership, Mrs. Ruth Woodward and Mrs. Harriet Slagel; attendance, Mrs. Clara Cooper and Mrs. Jean Farnsworth, and entertainment, Mrs. Joyce Renner. Kenneth Carr was elected delegate to attend the City PTA Federation.

Richard Brian, who served as district chairman of the March of Dimes campaign, presented the school with a certificate for its work in the drive.

Paul Blair, assistant superintendent of schools, spoke on the school levy to be submitted in the May primary. Sixth grade pupils entertained with a song they composed which referred to the levy.

The attendance award was presented to Mrs. Bernadette Owen's first grade.

Prayer was given by the Rev. James Gardner, pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

Pre-Natal Class Ends

LISBON — Twenty-two women attended the last in a series of six classes Wednesday in a prenatal clinic conducted by the County Health Department. William James Taylor, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor of Winona, was the live model for instructions on bathing a baby.

Davis Appointed As Regular Police Chief At Chester

Acting Police Chief Harold Davis of Chester was named regular chief by a unanimous vote of Council following the recommendation of Mayor Burton Ward Wednesday night.

Davis was named to succeed Floyd (Doc) Lyons last week after Lyons' resignation from the post was received.

Mayor Ward last night said he will proclaim May 4 as "Doc Lyons Day." A stag dinner for the retired officer is planned then at the American Legion home.

Council voted to postpone its meeting May 4 to May 5 in order to attend the dinner.

Applications for the patrolman post — formerly held by Davis— will be received at the City Hall until Monday night at 7:30 when Council may act on naming a regular officer.

Roy Cashdollar, clerk-treasurer, pointed out last night that employment of special officers to work nights because of the lack of a regular officer is costing the city extra money.

Heavy Reading Causes Courthouse Floor Sag

LISBON — Courthouse employes are attempting to redistribute heavy tomes in the law library to halt serious sagging of floors in the third-story area.

County commissioners ordered changing of the book stacks after it was found the library floor has been sagging from one to 3 inches in places.

It is estimated the some 10,000 volumes in the library weigh 15 tons, and plans call for placing the stacks and shelves over beams instead of on floor sites where there is no support.

Commissioners considered moving the library to the basement, but reported some alterations would have to be made to offices before this could be done.

Legion At Newell Plans Dinner For State Commander

Newell American Legion Post 114 Wednesday night made final plans for an anniversary banquet Friday night at the post home at which past commanders will be honored and Bonn Brown of Charleston, state commander, will be speaker.

The dinner will be served by the auxiliary at 7, Paul Mosher, commander, said.

John Merriman of Chester Post 121 spoke on the King-and-Queen-for-a-Day event slated for youngsters at Charleston. Kenneth Frye of New Cumberland R. D. 2 was accepted as a new member.

Use of the post home was granted to the post-prom committee for planning the Wells High School event May 20. The post acknowledged the gift of a pine tree from the auxiliary, which is to be planted at the front of the post home.

The next meeting will be April 20.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Can you tell me a quick and easy way to hand-wash bathroom rugs?

A. Here's a way that'll save your back: Drop the rugs into a bucket of soapy water and then swash them up and down with an ordinary plumber's force pump, such as is used for cleaning out drains. This works like the suction cups on a washing machine.

Q. How can I avoid the bitter taste of lemon and orange rinds when grating?

A. The white part of lemon and orange rinds contains the bitter portions, so when grating, use only the yellow part of the rinds.

Q. How can I give ferns a better color?

A. A teaspoonful of ammonia in one quart of water, poured over the house ferns about every two weeks will give them a nice, green color.

Titles Recorded For 503 Vehicles

LISBON — The Car Title Department of the clerk of courts office issued titles for 503 new vehicles in March, compared to 325 in February. New vehicle valuation was $1,559,352.

Clerk Carl L. Stacey reported a total of $7,185.13 was paid the county treasurer last month in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the title department.

The department received $6,351 last month with $4,844 going to the county and $1,506 to the state.

The clerk's office paid the state treasurer $6,691 from the collection of sales and use tax and $48.-594 from the collection of the dealer's tax. The county received $556.-45 for its one per cent poundage fee.

Issued last month were 4,121 auto titles, 120 duplicate titles, 922 memorandums, 45 duplicate memorandums, 1,589 notations of liens, 1,429 cancelations of liens and 1,347 acknowledgments.

Sixty-seven civil cases were filed in Common Pleas Court during the month, Stacey said.

The annual spring dance for the band and chorus will be April 23 at the high school. Mrs. Chalmers Blatch is refreshments chairman, and Debbie Ashbaugh is student chairman.

The spring concert will be May 20 at the high school. Dancing and refreshments followed business in a "Fun Night" program. The next meeting will be May 4.

Navy To Step Up Polaris Sub Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy plans to step up the Polaris missile-firing submarine program while cutting back construction of attack submarines brought criticism today from Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex).

Mahon is chairman of the House Appropriations Defense subcommittee, which is considering the defense budget revisions approved Wednesday by President Eisenhower.

He said he favored expansion of the Polaris submarine program but "I wouldn't give any serious consideration to eliminating the attack submarines, which are major antisubmarine weapons."

Senators of both parties generally applauded the missile program changes announced Wednesday. Here's what is involved:

The Defense Department asked Congress for 39 million dollars to start building six more Polaris submarines. This was a policy reversal on the part of the Pentagon. And Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. told Congress the Navy is willing to put off getting funds for two of three planned nuclear attack submarines already included in the new budget.

Earlier in the day, President Eisenhower also gave formal approval to increasing the size of six Atlas intercontinental missile squadrons and improving the ballistic warning system. The Pentagon disclosed the last six of the 13 planned Atlas squadrons each would have a total of 13 missiles—three more than under present plans. Earlier it had been thought that the squadrons which will be in place by the end of next year might gas as many as 15 missiles and pads.

Both the attack and the Polaris submarines are nuclear-powered.

A discussion was held on the policies and procedures of the commissioners' committee and the need for more neighborhood commissioners to handle the new units and serve existing ones.

Thirteen were present. Guests were Willard Gray of Newell and Ernie Purton of East Liverpool. Calvin Filler of Salem, council commissioner, also was a guest. He talked on the national jamboree to be held in Colorado and announced there are a few openings in the council for the trip.

Robert W. Gray, Cherokee District executive, spoke on the potential growth of the district. Lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

The district roundtable will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 at the YMCA for all scouting personnel.

1 Killed, 16 Injured In Mass 'Chute Jump

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — Pvt. Jerry L. Gill, 19, was killed and 16 other jumpers were injured Wednesday in a parachute jump during the third phase of Operation Quick Strike.

Gill's next of kin was listed as his father, James E. Gill of Jacksontown (Licking County), Ohio. The youth starred on the Lynwood-Jacksontown basketball team that reached the state high school finals in 1959.

Officials said Gill's parachute lines became twisted and he neglected to pull his reserve chute. The injured jumpers required only minor treatment, they added.

Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland led 500 men of his command, the 101st Airborne Division, in the jump. The exercise continues through April 14 with the action moving to Camp Bretkenridge Thursday.

Man Dead On Guam Was Civilian Employe

Clinton Wayne Barnhart, 50, who died Saturday on Guam, was not a member of the armed forces but apparently was a civilian employe of a federal agency, the family here learned late Wednesday.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Barnhart, 376 Haywood St., Beechwood, received a telegram last night from the adjutant general's office at Washington, stating Mr. Barnhart was not in the Air Force, as first believed, and that further investigation would be made to determine his actual status.

Mr. Barnhart apparently was employed by the Federal Aviation Agency on Guam because the telegram received by the family Tuesday notifying them of his death was signed by the FAA station manager on Guam. The telegram was sent over the government teletype network and relayed here from an Air Force office in Pittsburgh.

Services and burial are to be held Friday on Guam.

41 Pupils Immunized

LISBON — Forty-one children were immunized in a spring clinic held Wednesday at Fairfield School by the County Health Department. The shots were administered by Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, assisted by Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse, and school nurses. A similar clinic is set Friday at Knox Local School.

Gems Owned By Recluse Net $1 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Diamonds by the dozen were among jewels which netted more than a million dollars Wednesday at auction — all from the estate of a wealthy recluse who lived her last years in a debris-littered, 24-room apartment.

The jewel collection, auctioned off for charity, was left by Lillian G. Timken, heiress to the Timken roller bearing fortune, who died last October. She was found in her huge Fifth avenue apartment, amid an accumulation of milk cartons, old newspapers and canned goods.

But the contents of a safe deposit vault yielded what turned out to be the second biggest jewel auction in this country. When it was over — at the Parke-Bernet Galleries—158 pieces had gone for $1,095,470.

Continuance Granted For Driver's Hearing

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered a continuance until 11 a. m. Friday in a hearing for Carroll Mills, 531 Jefferson St., accused of failure to stop after an auto mishap March 26 on Shadyside Ave.

The continuance was allowed to arrange the appearance of the complaining witness, Robert A. Steinberg of Pond St. Mills originally was taken into court March 30, but did not enter a plea. Arraigned this morning, he pleaded not guilty. The court was advised March 30 that Mills and Steinberg were attempting to arrange a settlement of the damages in the crash.

Girl Retracts Story

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 7-year-old Akron girl has retracted a story she gave police five days ago that a fast moving green car struck and killed 17-month-old Warren Nelson Jr. in front of his home. Officials said Wednesday the child was killed accidentally when a car driven by John Williams, 35, of Akron, backed out of the Nelson driveway. The girl said she did not want Williams to get into trouble.

Navy To Step Up Polaris Sub Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy plans to step up the Polaris missile-firing submarine program while cutting back construction of attack submarines brought criticism today from Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex).

Mahon is chairman of the House Appropriations Defense subcommittee, which is considering the defense budget revisions approved Wednesday by President Eisenhower.

He said he favored expansion of the Polaris submarine program but "I wouldn't give any serious consideration to eliminating the attack submarines, which are major antisubmarine weapons."

Senators of both parties generally applauded the missile program changes announced Wednesday. Here's what is involved:

The Defense Department asked Congress for 39 million dollars to start building six more Polaris submarines. This was a policy reversal on the part of the Pentagon. And Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. told Congress the Navy is willing to put off getting funds for two of three planned nuclear attack submarines already included in the new budget.

Earlier in the day, President Eisenhower also gave formal approval to increasing the size of six Atlas intercontinental missile squadrons and improving the ballistic warning system. The Pentagon disclosed the last six of the 13 planned Atlas squadrons each would have a total of 13 missiles—three more than under present plans. Earlier it had been thought that the squadrons which will be in place by the end of next year might gas as many as 15 missiles and pads.

Both the attack and the Polaris submarines are nuclear-powered.

A discussion was held on the policies and procedures of the commissioners' committee and the need for more neighborhood commissioners to handle the new units and serve existing ones.

Thirteen were present. Guests were Willard Gray of Newell and Ernie Purton of East Liverpool. Calvin Filler of Salem, council commissioner, also was a guest. He talked on the national jamboree to be held in Colorado and announced there are a few openings in the council for the trip.

Robert W. Gray, Cherokee District executive, spoke on the potential growth of the district. Lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

The district roundtable will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 at the YMCA for all scouting personnel.

1 Killed, 16 Injured In Mass 'Chute Jump

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — Pvt. Jerry L. Gill, 19, was killed and 16 other jumpers were injured Wednesday in a parachute jump during the third phase of Operation Quick Strike.

Gill's next of kin was listed as his father, James E. Gill of Jacksontown (Licking County), Ohio. The youth starred on the Lynwood-Jacksontown basketball team that reached the state high school finals in 1959.

Officials said Gill's parachute lines became twisted and he neglected to pull his reserve chute. The injured jumpers required only minor treatment, they added.

Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland led 500 men of his command, the 101st Airborne Division, in the jump. The exercise continues through April 14 with the action moving to Camp Bretkenridge Thursday.

Man Dead On Guam Was Civilian Employe

Clinton Wayne Barnhart, 50, who died Saturday on Guam, was not a member of the armed forces but apparently was a civilian employe of a federal agency, the family here learned late Wednesday.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Barnhart, 376 Haywood St., Beechwood, received a telegram last night from the adjutant general's office at Washington, stating Mr. Barnhart was not in the Air Force, as first believed, and that further investigation would be made to determine his actual status.

Mr. Barnhart apparently was employed by the Federal Aviation Agency on Guam because the telegram received by the family Tuesday notifying them of his death was signed by the FAA station manager on Guam. The telegram was sent over the government teletype network and relayed here from an Air Force office in Pittsburgh.

Services and burial are to be held Friday on Guam.

Gems Owned By Recluse Net $1 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Diamonds by the dozen were among jewels which netted more than a million dollars Wednesday at auction — all from the estate of a wealthy recluse who lived her last years in a debris-littered, 24-room apartment.

The jewel collection, auctioned off for charity, was left by Lillian G. Timken, heiress to the Timken roller bearing fortune, who died last October. She was found in her huge Fifth avenue apartment, amid an accumulation of milk cartons, old newspapers and canned goods.

But the contents of a safe deposit vault yielded what turned out to be the second biggest jewel auction in this country. When it was over — at the Parke-Bernet Galleries—158 pieces had gone for $1,095,470.

More than 1,200 prospective buyers from all parts of the world "oh'd" and "ah'd" over the glittering procession of rings, necklaces and bracelets.

Continuance Granted For Driver's Hearing

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered a continuance until 11 a. m. Friday in a hearing for Carroll Mills, 531 Jefferson St., accused of failure to stop after an auto mishap March 26 on Shadyside Ave.

The continuance was allowed to arrange the appearance of the complaining witness, Robert A. Steinberg of Pond St. Mills originally was taken into court March 30, but did not enter a plea. Arraigned this morning, he pleaded not guilty. The court was advised March 30 that Mills and Steinberg were attempting to arrange a settlement of the damages in the crash.

Atoms and want ads are both small, but they pack a mighty wallop when they are used scientifically. A want ad that gives complete information will start a chain reaction in a hurry.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Emma Fishback, who passed away 2 years ago, April 6th, 1958: Today recalls sad memories of a dear wife and mother gone to rest, And the ones who think of her today are the ones who loved her best. Her husband, children, and grandchildren.

IN memory of Mary Fuller, who passed away 1 year ago today. I cannot say, and I will not say That she is dead — she is just away! With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand, She has wandered into an unknown land, And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since she lingers there. And you— O you, who the wildest yearn For the old time step and glad return, Think of her faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of Here; Think of her still as the same, I say: She is not dead—she is just away! — Sadly missed by her husband Homer and family.

3 CARD OF THANKS

WE wish to extend our thanks to our many good friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown in the loss of our loved one, James McDole Jr. We especially thank Sheriff Hobbs in his kindness shown in breaking news of the tragedy. Special thanks to Rev. Earliss Gleaton, Arner Funeral Chapel and to those who sent floral offerings. Sadly missed by his wife Joyce, Mother Mrs. Harry Clark, brother George and sister Helen. Also Mr. and Mrs. Frank Katzenmeyer and family.

Atoms and want ads are both small, but they pack a mighty wallop when they are used scientifically. A want ad that gives complete information will start a chain reaction in a hurry.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Emma Fishback, who passed away 2 years ago, April 6th, 1958: Today recalls sad memories of a dear wife and mother gone to rest, And the ones who think of her today are the ones who loved her best. Her husband, children, and grandchildren.

IN memory of Mary Fuller, who passed away 1 year ago today. I cannot say, and I will not say That she is dead — she is just away! With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand, She has wandered into an unknown land, And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since she lingers there. And you— O you, who the wildest yearn For the old time step and glad return, Think of her faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of Here; Think of her still as the same, I say: She is not dead—she is just away! — Sadly missed by her husband Homer and family.
